French Leader Urges Scrapping All Navies

NEW CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT
IS NOW PROPOSED

President Naval Committee French Senate Says France Ready to Suppress Entire Fleet.

WORLD DESTRUCTION
SEEN IN NEXT WAR

Kerguezec Says Dreadnaught's Only Use Is Offensive—For Defense Only Small Ships Needed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Paris, April 5.—The president of the naval committee of the French senate, Gustave de Kerguezec, in a statement to the Associated Press, today advocated the summoning of a further naval armament conference which would have for its object the actual scrapping of the big navies of the world.

"I guarantee, in the name of the French parliament," he declared, "that France will suppress her entire fleet if the other powers will do likewise."

M. de Kerguezec is probably the best informed man on naval affairs in either house of parliament. For six years preceding 1921 he was a member of the chamber of deputies and served on the committee directing the naval budget. In his statement he said:

"What we are coming to is another Washington treaty which will make an honest revision of naval armaments. What I would propose is a new conference for scrapping the big navies. If the world does not look out, it will destroy itself totally in a new war."

"People insist in ignoring the lessons drawn from the recent war, but it must be pointed out that in the comparatively recent history of humanity the wars were between nations, then between countries, then nations and now they are between continents. And each day I am informed of more dreadful arms of warfare, which will lead not only to the re-making of the national maps but the extinction of untold millions of combatants and civilians alike."

In explaining his personal attitude in the chamber he said he started a campaign for the abandonment of capital ships in 1916 that resulted in discontinuance of the construction of five superdreadnaughts.

"Our policy as laid down then was the same as now—a defensive fleet, not an offensive one," he said.

Defining France's general attitude, M. de Kerguezec said:

"France has recovered her lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, so now she must keep guard on land with her face to the east and with free seas at her back. For communication with her colonies and for this defense she does not require big ships. It is only capital ships that are needed."

"This policy has been attacked by the English who intimate we want

Arlington Hotel, at Hot Springs, Completely Destroyed by Fire.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 5.—One fireman was killed and two other firemen were seriously hurt late tonight when the walls of the Arlington hotel, noted hotelery, which was destroyed by fire late today, crumbled and fell upon them as they were working in the ruins with a hose line. George Ford is the dead man. John Wood suffered a broken leg and Butler Brown was badly crushed.

The fire was of undetermined origin. All guests, numbering more than 300, escaping without serious injury, although dense smoke threatened to overcome many as they groped for exits.

The loss was estimated tonight at upward of a million dollars, with something more than half that sum covered by insurance. In addition, loss of personal effects, including jewelry, money and clothing of guests, will run into a considerable fire loss. Most of the hotel occupants were left with no personal property other than the clothing they wore when the alarm was given.

The escape of many guests and employees was facilitated by the mountain slope on which the hotel was built; at the rear of the building egress is possible from each floor to the mountainside.

Prominent Guests.

The register of guests at the Arlington included Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Christian, Owosso, Mich.; W. S. Root and wife, Cleveland; Dr. E. L. Tobie, Buffalo; L. A. Browning, St. Louis; H. C. Lerman, Chicago; T. S. Moffland, Tulsa, Okla., oil man; James P. Rand and C. S. Ellison and wife, Chicago; Mrs. Joe T. Robinson, wife of the United States senate minority leader; W. T. Bailey and his mother, Duluth; Mr. Hoffman, son of the sheriff of Cook county, Illinois, and William Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton Detective agency.

The fire was discovered in the basement of the hotel at 3 o'clock this afternoon at which time it had already gained considerable headway. Strenuous efforts of the city fire department personnel were unavailing in checking its spread, though it was confined to the lower part of the building for an hour. Dense smoke in corridors and even outside the burning building interfered with the work of the fire-fighters.

Rescued by Firemen.

Fully fifty persons unable to reach the rear and blocked from stairs by the smoke-filled halls, were rescued by firemen who reached the front windows on hook and ladder equipment.

The time of the fire was regarded as a fortunate circumstance, many of the hotel guests being outdoors where the weather was clear and inviting.

The Arlington had accommodations for approximately 500 guests. For four months last summer it was closed for the making of improvements at an estimated expense of $137,000.

No plans for rebuilding were announced tonight by officials of the company which owned the property.

RAILROADS PLEAD
FOR PUBLIC HELP
IN TRAFFIC JAM

American Railway Association Calls Upon People to Co-Operate in Record Freight Movements.

SPEND $1,540,000,000
FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Shippers Asked to Conserve Space and Help Keep Cars Moving as Fast as Possible.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, April 5.—Having approved the expenditure of $1,540,000,000 in new tracks, locomotives, cars, and terminals, the American Railway association today adopted a program which calls on every road, every shipper, and every household to help relieve the heaviest traffic burden in history.

The roads ask that shippers conserve space and help keep cars moving; that dealers and consumers get their coal into bins early; that the bulk of ore and coal shipments on the Great Lakes be completed early in the summer; that road and construction work be started as soon as possible so rail equipment may be available for crop movements in the fall.

On their part the roads will try to have an extraordinary number of good order locomotives and cars available in the fall to have all coal intended for railroad use in storage by September 1, to restrict the transportation of railroad supplies to the minimum during the fall rush, and to help keep every car moving.

Unanimous Vote.

The program is one recommended by the directors Tuesday and adopted today by the full membership, including every road, transfer and terminal subsidiary in the United States. It also has been approved by the Association of Railway Executives, an organization of class one trunk lines.

All are agreed.

"1. That by October 1, 1933, when the peak movement ordinarily begins, cars awaiting repairs will be reduced to the normal basis of 5 per cent of the total equipment of the country."

"2. That by October 1, 1933, locomotives awaiting repairs will be reduced to a normal basis for the entire country of 15 per cent."

"3. That to the extent coal is stored for railroad use storage requirements will be completed by September 1 so that after that date the equipment and other transportation facilities may be used to the greatest extent for commercial coal necessities."

"4. That the use of power and equipment for railroad construction and maintenance purposes will be restricted to the minimum after September 1 in order that a maximum of power and equipment may be available for commercial purposes."

Use of Lakes.

"5. That railroads in producing and consuming sections will impress upon all interested the necessity for the movement of coal and ore via the lakes in the largest possible quantity early in the season and that railroads serving upper lake ports will carry on a campaign for early purchase and shipment of coal from the upper lake basins to points of consumption."

FLOYD GRAND JURY
INDICTS ALLEGED
"WHISKY RING"

Thirty-Eight True Bills Returned in Connection With So-Called "River Bend Distillery Co."

Dalton, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—Thirty-eight indictments were returned by the grand jury now in session here on the evidence of S. A. Slaton, who was convicted yesterday on the charge of possessing whisky and pleading guilty to manufacturing whisky, this opportunity being given him by Judge M. C. Farver before completing the record against Slaton. The defendants against whom Slaton is marked as a witness are persons implicated by him in either having assisted him in making whisky or who bought from him in quantities ranging from one quart to hundreds of gallons.

Those indicted include a number of prominent citizens residing here and in Chattanooga.

When Slaton in open court confessed to his operations as a distiller it produced quite a sensation and has been the subject of conversation since. A number of the defendants accused by Slaton have given bond and likely will be tried this week.

It is stated by officers that the "River Bend Distillery company," as Slaton styled the concern, brought to light one of the largest and most complete organizations ever attempted in Georgia in violation of the prohibition laws.

Some doubt is expressed as to the credibility of Slaton, but in the main it is accepted as being well founded, especially as to the large purchasers and relative to his associates who assisted in the operation of the various stills.

Up to the present 89 true bills have been returned, and a large majority of them are for violations of the prohibition laws. Court will continue in session the remainder of this week and probably an adjourned term will be held.

Slaton is about 65 years of age and is the father of John A. Slaton, the first man from Whitfield county to lose his life in the world war.

President Would Avoid Break With Organized Labor, Despite Efforts of Advisers.

HAS WHOLESOME FEAR OF POWER OF UNIONS

Experience in Ohio Politics Taught President Value of Labor's Friendship at Polls.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, April 5.—President Harding shows every disposition of resisting the effort of some of his advisers who would push him into a fight with organized labor over the open shop issue. Having battled his way up through the difficult political paths of Ohio, the president is fully aware of the difficulties which would attend any straight out fight with the labor unions.

Some business men and bankers, including Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, are supposed to have urged the president to declare himself against the closed shop. But information coming direct from the president party at Augusta, Ga., and from Harding's close friends here, indicates that the probability of the president challenging organized labor by espousing the open shop is extremely remote.

This reaction came instantly after Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, warned the republican party against championing the issue before the voters in the next presidential campaign. Gompers feared that Dawes had persuaded the president to back up the big employers of labor, who undoubtedly, would like to see the closed shop abolished. Harding has a wholesome respect for the opinions of Dawes and draws heavily on this man of affairs for advice. But when it comes to engaging in a political fight with organized labor, the president has some views of his own which are the result of many years' apprenticeship in the exacting politics of his own state where the unions have great strength.

Seeks Middle of Road.

Some press dispatches recently came from the president's party in Florida indicating that the question has been broached to Harding. But Miss Leila Hawkins in Serious Condition at Grady Hospital—Driver of Car Arrested.

Miss Leila Hawkins, 450 Lee street, is in Grady hospital suffering from serious injuries received when struck by an automobile on Lee street near McCull's crossing early Thursday night.

Scott Johnson, 420 West Peachtree street, driver of the machine which struck Miss Hawkins, was held by police in bond of $500 on a charge of reckless driving.

Miss Hawkins was seriously wounded on the head, and suffered bruises on other parts of the body. Physicians at Grady stated that her injuries would not prove fatal.

Miss Hawkins had alighted from an outgoing East Point street car, and was crossing Lee street when the car struck her. Johnson stated to the police that the headlights of the trolley car blinded him, making it impossible to see Miss Hawkins in his path.

He stopped the car immediately, and with the aid of B. T. Lander, of East Point, a passenger on the trolley car, placed the victim in his automobile, after which Mr. Langley drove to the hospital with her.

On his return from the hospital, Langley went by police station, reporting the matter to Assistant Chief E. L. Jett, who sent men to investigate. Johnson was found at the scene of the accident, and accompanied the officers to headquarters where bond was furnished.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—A deed for a trust fund of $25,000 to be used for the education of Georgia girls at Wesleyan college, Macon, was filed here this afternoon in superior court. Lewis H. Beck, president of the Beck and Grege Hardware company, Atlanta, is the donor. The fund will be known as the Lewis H. Beck's mother's fund.

Trustees for the fund are listed as General Walter A. Harris, Miss Wynne May Hill, Mrs. Dorothy Blount Lamar, E. C. Scott and Mrs. Catherine Coleman Willingham. Three or more of the five trustees are always to be women.

The deed provides that the qualifications for a receiving aid are that the applicant be between fifteen and twenty years of age and a resident of Georgia.

OFFICERS LOCATE
WOMAN INVOLVED IN CONVICT ESCAPE

May Be Grilled by Federal Officer Investigating Escape of Chapman From Athens Hospital.

Athens, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—Identity of the young woman who rode for an hour in a taxicab in company with one of the men who is thought by officers to have aided in the escape of Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit convicted of connection with a million-dollar mail robbery in New York in 1921, has been established and she is under surveillance, according to officers.

The arrival tonight of a department of justice official may result tomorrow in a severe grilling of the young woman, whose name is being withheld, because of the desire of the officers not to "embarrass what may be an innocent girl."

That Chapman, escaped federal penitentiary prisoner, who engineered the $1,000,000 Leonard street mail robbery in New York in 1921, is headed east tonight, a very sick man but with his freedom, is the belief expressed tonight by federal and state officers who have followed what was believed to be his trail today.

Chapman escaped from the Atlanta penitentiary a week ago. Two days later he was brought to a local hospital after he had been desperately wounded when he and his companion, Frank Gray, a convicted forger, were caught near here in Madison county following a gun battle. Last night Chapman buried himself from a second story window of the hospital during a temporary absence of his guard, and began his second flight towards freedom.

Used Guard's Clothes.

Before taking the leap the prisoner dressed himself in the clothes of his guard, Deputy Sheriff McCarthy, while the latter sat outside the room door. The guard, when he went on duty, had brought the extra clothing in a handbag. His explanation for Judge Johnson Orders Mother to Bring Baby to Him Once a Week.

Out of the mixed currents of human emotions that surge beneath the throbbing heart of Atlanta, there drifted into the channels of justice Thursday afternoon a bit of anguish and love of one who walks in darkness and "sees" only with the sense of touch.

Accordingly it was arranged by Probation Officer Hollingsworth that Hazel would be compelled to meet his wife at the police station every Saturday morning to pay her $4 for the support of the child and to "see" the child by passing his fingers over the little round face.

JUDGE DISCHARGES
DEADLOCKED JURY
AT FOSTER TRIAL

Was Tried for Alleged Violation of Michigan Law Against Criminal Syndicalism.

31 OTHERS AWAITING TRIAL IN SAME CASE

They Were Arrested Following Raid on Convention of Communist Party in America.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 5.—Hopelessly deadlocked after 31 and a quarter hours' deliberation, the jury trying William Z. Foster, of Chicago, for alleged violation of the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism, was discharged by Judge Charles White, this evening.

The jurors stood six to six from the start, taking 38 ballots without changing a vote.

Five men and one woman voted for Foster's acquittal and six men for his conviction.

Foster was the first to face trial of the 32 men and women arrested as a result of the raid on the convention of the Communist Party of America, held in the lonely dune country near here last August.

Charles E. Ruthenberg, one of his co-defendants, will be placed on trial a week from next Monday.

No Change in Ballots.

Only Foster and his wife and attorneys were in the Berrien county circuit court room when Judge White called the jury in and asked the foreman, Calvin Bachman, if there was any chance of reaching a verdict.

"I am afraid not," Bachman said. "We have not changed since the first ballot."

After the court discharged the jurors some of those who voted for acquittal explained the reason for the hopeless deadlock.

"We six were convinced from the start that the state had failed to make a case against Foster," Russell Durm, a grocery clerk explained. "We didn't feel that the evidence showed Foster had committed any crime in attending the convention, and we voted."

Woman Is Silent.

Mrs. Minerva Olson, only woman in the jury, and one of the leaders in the group favoring acquittal, declined to comment on the jury's deliberations.

Foster accepted the jury's failure to agree as a victory.

Whether the case will be re-tried

Kiwanians, However, Maintain Hold on First Place for Amount Collected So Far This Week

The Masonic team, under the command of Paul E. Coleman, turned in the honor report for Thursday in the Salvation Army $40,000 campaign, reporting a collection of $1,038.50. Great credit was given to Mr. Coleman and his associates by campaign officials because of the fact that he had been assigned to territory outside of the immediate business center.

The Masonic club's committee not only turned in this excellent report, but also accepted additional territory to be covered during the remainder of the week.

The outstanding feature of all reports received was to the effect that the rainy weather of the past three days had so hampered all workers that they had been unable to secure the results which they had hoped for, and all of them were unanimous in asking for an extension of time until they could complete the work assigned to them. Each chairman expressed the firm conviction that, if sufficient time is given to cover the territory, returns will be most favorable.

SYSTEM OF KLAN

Imperial Emperor Says "Invisible Empire" Has Been Turned Into "Government by Blackmail."

FRAUD CHARGE MADE AGAINST COL. SIMMONS

Etheridge Claims Injunction Order Was Obtained From Judge Through Misrepresentation.

Colonel William Joseph Simmons, founder and emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, again swept into the vantage ground Thursday in the hectic struggle for control of the organization being waged between himself and Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, when Nathan Bedford Forrest, great-grandfather of the organization, voted its determination to "stand by the emperor in his administering of affairs of the Klan."

At the same time that the influential mother Klan swore allegiance to Simmons, it was announced that the kloncilium, inner governing council of the order, had also swung into the emperor's forces.

These feature developments were concurrent with a sensational statement from Simmons in which he openly charged that under the Evans administration "the invisible empire has become a government by blackmail," that waste was rampant and that a great spy system cast its shadows throughout the Klan.

Vote to Aid Simmons.

It was understood that a majority of the members of the kloncilium were hastily summoned Monday night and voted support of Simmons. This, it appears, was done while Wizard Evans was engaged in a conference in New York where plans were being laid to defeat the revolution from within, and it is believed to be certain that Evans will bitterly fight all efforts to put the action of the incomplete kloncilium membership on official record.

Attorney J. V. Poole, representing Simmons, declared Thursday night that a quorum was present at the session and that the action taken was perfectly legal.

Thursday's formal statement by Simmons, was the first to be made by the emperor in the present Klan contest, and it proved to be the most sensational ever presented against the present administration of the organization.

Hits Espionage System.

Without mincing words, Simmons declared that "Evans' forces had turned the invisible empire into a government by blackmail; that gross mismanagement and waste of funds had governed the order since Evans assumed the reins; that a gigantic system of espionage had been secretly built up and extended to the remotest Klan in the order; that every constructive plan he had advocated had been deliberately scrapped and none adopted to take their places; that junketing parties, escorted by guards and traveling in regal splendor, had scattered the funds of the order; that money had been withdrawn from the treasury and placed to individual credits, subject to individual check, and that authority had been exercised and abused."

Poverty and Obscurity.

Replying to certain charges Simmons said he had been made to the effect that he now seeks to regain the scepter of power for mercenary reasons, he declared:

"It has been my proud distinction to remain much of the time in obscurity and all of the time in poverty, while others became conspicuous and rich."

Referring to alleged exceeding of authority by the present regime, Simmons said: "I speak reverently when I say that even Almighty God has never exercised such authority over the free will, the free conscience and the free conduct of man."

Day's Developments.

Chief among them were: Introduction of evidence before Judge E. D. Thomas, of Fulton superior court, by counsel for Simmons, purporting to show that the election of Evans as imperial wizard at the klonoconvocation of the invisible empire last November was illegal because the procedure as prescribed in the constitution and by-laws of the order was not followed.

Presentation of affidavits at the hearing by Paul S. Etheridge, attorney for Evans and a member of the imperial klonoconvocation of the Klan, in support of his charge that the temporary injunction signed by Judge Thomas Monday night was obtained by Simmons on fraudulent representations.

Abuse of Authority.

Issuance of a statement by Colonel Simmons to the effect that he sought to resume active control of the Ku Klux Klan to correct "the gross mismanagement of affairs on the inside and to arrest the abuse of authority," and charging the Evans regime with creating out of the "invisible empire" a "government by blackmail," with paid spies on the inside of every Klan in America.

Release of N. N. Furrer, cashier, and T. J. McKinnon, chief of the Klan department of investigation under the Evans regime, on bonds of $1,000 each until Friday morning at 9 o'clock when they will answer charges in municipal court of larceny after trust of Klan funds aggregating $107,000.

Announcement by George W. Keeling, kludge of Texas, that Ku Klux members in that state are supporting Evans in his controversy with Simmons; and the report that the Ku Klux Klan in Lafayette, La., has disbanded and will surrender its charter.

Hearing Is Recused.

The hearing on Evans' motion to modify Judge Thomas' restraining order was recessed at 6 o'clock Thursday evening until 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon after all evidence had been submitted and opposing counsel announced readiness to begin arguments.

Attorney Etheridge, representing Evans and his supporters, charged while outlining his case that the restraining order was secured by Simmons on false representations as to who was in actual charge of the Klan and its headquarters when the petition was presented to Judge Thomas. The restraining order enjoined Evans or his followers from interfering with Simmons in his possession of the imperial palace at Peachtree road and the exercise of the authority over Klan affairs he claims to hold as imperial wizard and executive head.

As to the election of Evans as imperial wizard after Simmons had resigned that office last November and had been designated emperor was null and void, Attorney Ben H. Sullivan and J. V. Poole, representing Simmons, introduced in evidence, article eight of the original constitution and by-laws of the Ku Klux Klan further prescribed the method of electing the imperial wizard, and then read extracts from a stenographic report of the proceedings of the klonoconvocation to show that the procedure of that gathering was at variance with the designated manner.

Simmons' Contention.

Article eight, section one, stated that the imperial wizard shall be elected by ballot, and that no nominations for the place can be made. The transcript of the klonoconvocation, as quoted by Attorney Sullivan, showed that Evans was nominated for the office of imperial wizard and then elected by acclamation. The minutes presented by Attorneys Sullivan and Poole showed that Judge Clarke was presiding at the klonoconvocation, announced from the chair that the convention was operating under the original constitution and by-laws, and further showed that the present constitution and by-laws were not adopted until the following day.

Even if the election had occurred under the new constitution and by-laws adopted the following day, counsel for Simmons contend, the election of Evans would have been illegal because under the regulations the imperial wizard must be elected by the grand dragons from the various clans, and not by the klonoconvocation.

In commenting on his move against Evans and his followers, Colonel Simmons said Thursday that his motives "have been impugned by certain statements in the daily press."

"It has been alleged that I have asserted my rights to govern the organization because of a lust for power, or a lust for money or for both. There is nothing in the entire history of my connection with the order to justify such charges. It has been my proud distinction to remain much of the time in obscurity and all of the time in poverty, while others became conspicuous and rich."

"The impelling motives behind my action were to correct the gross mismanagement of affairs on the inside and to arrest the abuse of authority."

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is an eleemosynary institution founded by myself for patriotic, fraternal and benevolent purposes. Every dollar coming into the treasury of the order is a trust fund. It was designed by me in the beginning to be used for the education and betterment of the people. Every program that I have made for such has been scrapped. No constructive plan has been inaugurated."

"Waste Is Charged."

"The administration has been characterized by extravagance and waste. Money that should have been utilized for educational and benevolent purposes has been used to pay junketing trips all over the country. Enormous sums have been expended in luxurious living in hotels in a number of cities, and the hotel expense accounts have been nearly or quite equalled by the expenditures for automobile services. These junkets have been organized usually with two or more imperial officers and a large company of attendants composed of clerks and body guards. They have been in royal splendor and have lived in royal luxury."

"An espionage system has been built up and extended until it ramifies every organization in the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Paid spies are on the inside of every organized Klan in America to report on the conduct and utterances of klansmen with the klaverns. The Invisible Empire under the present administration became a government by blackmail. The cost of the spy system was appalling. During the month of March more than $68,000 was diverted from the treasury of the organization and went to this department. I am determined that the American citizens associated with this organization shall no longer be subjected to this system of espionage, and that the moneys coming into the treasury of the organization shall no longer be diverted to the purpose of blackmailing klansmen."

Thousands Are Used.

"The funds pouring into the Imperial Palace through regular channels have run into many hundreds of thousands of dollars. These moneys have not been placed into the treasury of the Klan and made subject to the check of one responsible, bonded official, but the funds have been deposited to the credit of individual accounts in a number of banks and made subject to the personal checks of the depositors. In addition to all this, large sums of money have been stored in safety deposit vaults. Why the trust funds of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan were taken from the treasury of the organization and so distributed and so deposited and so used has not up to this time been explained to me."

"Recently a proclamation emanating from the Imperial Palace made it a capital crime, not exceeded in enormity by treason or murder, for a klansman to give aid or encouragement to any woman's organization. This was an attempted exercise of arbitrary authority without parallel. I speak reverently when I say that even Almighty God has never exercised such authority over the free will, the free conscience and the free conduct of man. Such misconception of the prerogatives of position and such abuse of authority cannot and shall not be tolerated by klansmen."

Charges Against Klansmen.

Charges that F. L. Savage and H. W. Evans had deposited large sums of Klan funds to their own account, subject to check for whatever use they desired were made in an amendment filed to Simmons' original petition by Attorney J. V. Poole when the hearing before Judge Thomas was resumed at 2:30 o'clock.

During March, the amendment asserted, Savage received $68,000 in Klan funds and deposited the money in his own name. Dr. Evans received $3 from his own personal use from every initiation fee collected throughout the country, it was alleged.

The amendment was filed after investigation of the fiscal affairs had been made at the palace by E. J. Jones, the new cashier appointed by Simmons, between the time Simmons took possession of headquarters and the time Sheriff Lowry and his deputies took custody, it was stated.

"When Dr. Evans took charge as imperial wizard," Jones told newspapermen, "there was upwards of $80,000 in the Klan treasury, and when Colonel Simmons regained control there was less than $125,000 left."

"This is in addition to the funds that came in every week, the average weekly payments from klans over the country to the palace being about $30,000."

"Investigation revealed that Dr. Evans, F. L. Savage, his chief of staff, and H. C. Montgomery, treasurer, had individual accounts at Atlanta banks, and that funds of the Klan were deposited subject to their personal checks."

"Most of the funds wasted were found to have gone for the establishment of an elaborate espionage system, inaugurated by Dr. Evans to spy upon officers and members of the Klan to find out who were for him and who against him. Salaries paid members of the espionage system ranged from $17.50 a week for a telephone operator in a local hotel to $12,000 a year for an attorney."

"It was found also that Dr. Evans charged up exorbitant amounts of money for expenses. On one occasion he turned in an expense account of $850 for a three-day visit to Chicago."

On another occasion Dr. Evans, Mr. Etheridge and Mr. Savage made a five-day visit to New York and drew out of the bank in advance the following sums for expenses: Dr. Evans, $2,000; Mr. Savage, $1,200; and Mr. Etheridge, $700.

Attorney Etheridge stated to the court that he expected to show that in order to secure the restraining order Monday night Simmons had represented that he was in actual control of the organization and actual possession of the physical properties and that he anticipated interference from the Evans faction, and indicated that he would then show that Simmons had not been in charge since he was made emperor last fall. In substantiation of that he read a number of affidavits which described what he termed the "raid" on the palace by the Simmons leaders Monday night.

The first public statement from Evans since Simmons proclaimed himself supreme head of the Ku Klux Klan came Thursday afternoon in one of the affidavits introduced by Attorney Etheridge.

He described the proceedings at the klonoconvocation last November when he was elected imperial wizard. He said that when Simmons resigned as imperial wizard and proclaimed that office vacant and issued a proclamation creating the office of emperor, Simmons suggested to the klonoconvocation that "it would be a gracious thing on the part of the klonoconvocation if they would select himself as the emperor," and then said to the assemblage:

"You may have a wizard to do the work and let your papa sit up in the corner and smoke and tell you about the war."

"The arrangement outlined by Simmons, Evans declared, the emperor would hold no authority except over the klonoconvocation, or the ritualistic and philosophical work of the Klan. He quoted Simmons as saying:

"I would have charge of rituals and robes and everything of that sort, and such work would be passed on to the klansmen by the imperial wizard, who must be subservient in those matters to the emperor."

Evans Is Elected.

Evans said after E. Y. Clarke had been elected imperial wizard and had immediately resigned, he was elected and was "anointed" imperial wizard with appropriate remarks by Simmons. After being installed, he said, he took possession of the Klan's physical properties and remained in charge of them until April 2.

N. N. Furrer, cashier under the Evans regime, was the author of one of the affidavits which, in substance, was as follows:

"On Monday morning rumors were heard at the palace that the palace would be raided and all the property seized. After I left the palace for the day and went to my home the night was dark and the palace telephoned me about 6:45 o'clock and informed me that a crowd had gathered at the palace."

"I immediately went to the palace and found what appeared to be 25 or 30 men assembled in the reception hall. Great excitement seemed to prevail. I walked back to my office and called in Howard the night watchman, and asked him what their business was. He stated that one Mr. Norton informed him that they had come out to take possession of the palace and had read him a paper signed by Colonel Simmons to that effect. He stated that he notified Mr. Norton that he had no authority to recognize a paper of that kind and therefore would not admit them further than the reception hall."

"I informed him, together with the rest of the employees of the palace, to let them remain in the reception hall until Colonel Simmons or some one officially connected with the organization arrived. This suggestion was followed out."

Meets Colonel Simmons.

"Shortly thereafter Colonel Simmons arrived, at which time I met him in the reception hall and asked him if he would talk with me. He informed me that he could not talk to me by myself. I told him that it was perfectly satisfactory for him to talk with me in the presence of one of the klansmen, and he then stated that he could not talk to me at all, and I returned to my private office."

"Then Attorney Sullivan came into my office and said that a court order was coming out that night ordering that the palace be turned over to Colonel Simmons. Later I was informed that the sheriff wanted to see me and the other agents and employees of the palace in the office of H. K. Ramsey, imperial kludge, and we assembled there, where Sheriff Lowry read to us what appeared to be the court paper."

Testimony of Tom Akers, private secretary to Chief of Staff Savage, offered in affidavit form, was to the effect that at no time prior to the occupancy of the palace by the sheriff's deputies had Simmons claimed possession.

Present Paper.

He said that about 7 o'clock Monday night Henry J. Norton, chief of the Klan, presented a paper to A. J. Grant, the night watchman. The document, signed by Simmons, was represented as authorizing Norton to take possession of the property. The night watchman refused to surrender custody of the palace, and was told that Simmons would arrive shortly with a court order.

Later, he said, Simmons and Attorney Sullivan, Dr. William E. Thompson and Dr. Johnson entered and demanded the use of a room for a meeting of the klonoconvocation. They were given the use of a room, he said. Participating in the conference were Mahoney, Dr. Greene, Dr. Ridley, T. J. Shiner and others.

Sheriff J. L. Lowry arrived during the conference and entered the meeting, Akers said.

When the sheriff entered, he said, Sullivan demanded that the court papers be read, whereupon Sheriff Lowry remarked that to him it "all seemed like a fool scheme," and recommended that nothing be done. Upon insistence of Colonel Simmons Sheriff Lowry read the prayers of Simmons' petition and the order which Judge Thomas had signed, Akers said, and advised him and the other attaches of the palace that the order gave Simmons control of the place, whereupon he and his associates withdrew.

FORREST KLAN BACKS SIMMONS.

The resolution introduced Thursday night at the meeting of the Nathan Bedford Forrest Klan was adopted by a standing vote, it was announced by representatives of the local Klan who furnished The Constitution with the text of the resolution. The meeting was held in the hall at 58 1/2 South Forsyth street. The text follows:

"Whereas, our emperor and imperial wizard, Colonel William Joseph Simmons, has by official proclamation assumed again the reins of authority and is actively functioning and performing his duties as imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan for the good of the order,

"And whereas, the imperial klonoconvocation has occurred in his decision and action,

"Therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Nathan Bedford Forrest Klan No. 1, individually and collectively, hereby express their purpose and determination to stand by our emperor and imperial wizard, Colonel William Joseph Simmons, in his taking charge and administering the affairs of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and we pledge to him our loyal, unqualified and undivided allegiance and support.

"Be it further resolved, that we send a copy of this resolution to every Klan in the United States and supply the newspapers with copies for publication."

Lowry Put On Stand.

Sheriff James I. Lowry was placed on the witness stand to swear to an affidavit which he had declined to sign for Attorney Etheridge early Thursday. The document, read to the court by Attorney Etheridge and sworn to by the sheriff, described the serving of the court order at the Klan.

Attorney Etheridge said that Sheriff Lowry had declined to sign the affidavit because he did not wish to appear as volunteering information for either side in the controversy inasmuch as he is temporary custodian of the palace and grounds, but had agreed to swear to the statements it contained if forced to do so in court.

An affidavit was presented by Attorney Etheridge bearing his own signature. He said that he was a member of the klonoconvocation and as such was familiar with the proceedings at the klonoconvocation last year. He corroborated the affidavit of Evans. He disclosed that at a meeting of the klonoconvocation in January a salary of $1,000 a month had been designated for Simmons as compensation for his ritualistic work.

Only Affidavits Admitted.

Attorneys Sullivan and Poole requested permission to place Simmons on the stand, but Judge Thomas held that only testimony in affidavit form was admissible. Simmons' counsel offered nothing in rebuttal except a few affidavits, but was overruled almost every instance.

By this time darkness was approaching and Judge Thomas announced that inasmuch as he had fore-

OFFICERS PROBE MYSTERIOUS FIND

Human Blood and Vital Organs on Mattress Lead to Belief of Atrocious Killing.

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Working from one of the most gruesome bits of silent evidence and with absolutely no other clue than the mysterious find reported to them, county police here are seeking to discover if a most atrocious killing may be solved. Where it occurred they do not know.

Police were this morning early notified that in a freight car which left Milledgeville, March 30, and arrived here March 31, and was today in the yards of the Savannah and Atlanta railroad had been found a mattress, covered with human blood, with parts of human vital organs upon it, and the mattress almost shot to pieces, evidently by numerous loads of buckshot fired at close range.

The sealed car was being unloaded of empty barrels consigned to Mr. Gillachudy company, here by a negro who discovered the mattress. Officers are working on the case, confident in the belief that there will be developments.

Enraged Steer Chases Sheriff Up Big Tent Pole

Carnival Animal Seems Very Angry at Being Outwitted.

Waycross, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Driven up a tent pole by a wild west show steer at the carnival now showing at Hebardville, was the experience of Sheriff Sweet and County Officer Hiers last night.

The officers were seated in the grandstand at the show when the steer broke loose. Rushing madly around the ring several times the steer headed straight for the local county officers.

A race for the nearest tent pole followed, in which Officer Hiers beat the sheriff by a hair breadth. The officers lost no time in scrambling up the pole, Officer Hiers not stopping until he was near the top of the tent.

The steer finding that he had been outwitted, bellowed madly around the foot of the pole, until the manager of the show called in a cowboy, who roped and threw the steer in true wild west fashion.

FIRE AND THIEVES WRECK AUTO-BUS IN SAVANNAH DITCH

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—The big auto-bus plying between Savannah and Pooler, several times daily went into a ditch early this morning on its last trip for the night and G. B. Stroud, owner and driver, and Surrey Wingate, solitary passenger, escaped sudden death by leaps into the marsh beside the road. The bus caught fire upside down and the men left it burning, unable to extinguish the blaze. Today returning to the scene, they learned that thieves had taken away every removable part of the car that the flames did not totally damage.

Identity of Man Who Leaped Off Savannah Dock Still Unknown

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—No clue was found today as to the identity of a well-dressed white man who leaped off the dock at Jefferson street late yesterday evening and was drowned. His body has not been recovered, being seen last by women passengers on the Alabama, just sailing for Augusta, as it floated upstream carried by the tide.

A negro boatman was the only witness of the leap. A passing boat threw the man a line but he went down and did not come to the surface again. His hat was found but it had no clue. No man is reported missing from Savannah today and it is believed that he was a stranger here.

SHIP LINE PLACES EMBARGO ON COTTON

Move Is Forced by Congestion Caused by Railroad Embargo.

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Due to congestion of rail and coastwise water facilities an embargo is now in effect over the Ocean Steamship company on lumber and cotton. The rail lines placed an embargo on cotton recently which diverted large quantities of the staple through Savannah to eastern mills.

The Ocean Steamship company, it is understood, received more of this business than could be handled and on March 17, H. M. Emerick, port agent at Savannah, notified all general freight agents at this port that he had been wired by T. N. Cook, general freight agent of Ocean Steamship company, to discontinue the acceptance of cotton and linters originating at points west of the Alabama-Mississippi state line or on or west of the Mississippi river.

At the present time this cotton is tied up, as neither rails nor coastwise lines are able to handle it. The embargo on cotton was placed some time after the present embargo on lumber. On March 7 H. M. Emerick notified all general freight agents that his company had discontinued the acceptance of all lumber moving on through billing.

It is understood several lumber men have conferred with steamship officials in an effort to secure space for their lumber to eastern ports.

HARDING AGAINST OPEN SHOP ISSUE

his friends here point out that nothing has come from the president himself which would indicate that he has any intention of reversing or following the advice of labor's opponents in this respect.

Harding always sought to keep in the middle of the road on the labor question. In his last message to congress, discussing anti-strike legislation, the president took the same view that he has advocated since he was nominated for the presidency.

"I wish I could bring to you the proper recommendation for the prevention of strikes which threaten the welfare of the people and menace public safety," he said. But he pointed out why this could not be done, continuing: "There can be no denial of constitutional rights of either rail way workers or railway managers. No man can be denied his right to labor when and how he chooses, or cease to labor when he so elects."

In his speech accepting the presidential nomination in 1920, Harding said: "We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual in his never-sary pursuit of livelihood. Anybody has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment."

These utterances, one delivered as he stepped into the presidential campaign and the other on his last regular appearance before congress, summarize the president's opinion.

Dangerous Issue.

Harding realized, as do his advisers, that labor is apt to be driven into the ranks of the radicals if the administration arouses fears that the industrial privileges obtained after years of warfare are now endangered. It is an issue which would not only endanger the party's success but would have far-reaching industrial and social effects. The famous Daugherty rail strike injunction has aroused great uneasiness among labor leaders and Harding may be expected to appease rather than aggravate this feeling.

Harding has been interested in obtaining a greater wage for the eight-hour day. His conference with steel magnates some months ago was said to have been for the purpose of obtaining more general recognition of the eight-hour day in the steel mills. Secretary of Labor Davis, on Thursday, delivered a broadside against the twelve-hour day and the seven-day week in a speech at Warren, Ohio. He predicted that through Harding's efforts, the twelve-hour day in the steel industry would soon disappear.

submarines to attack enemy commerce.

"Lord Lee, first lord of the admiralty, has declared submarines are unable to cope with capital ships. The truth is that the sinister attacks launched against submarines at the Washington conference were for the purpose of giving dominion of the seas to one or two nations."

Freedom of Seas.

"The motto of the partisans of capital ships is: 'The sea is mine; keep off.' For this motto we substitute ours: 'The seas shall be free for ever, for all.' It is very curious that the world speaks of imperialism."

As to the Washington treaty itself, the senator said: "I was favorable to the treaty, because in it I saw the possibility of limiting the fatal race of armaments, but the French doctrine was unfairly represented there (in Washington) by the demand for capital ships, the error coming from M. Briand's unfamiliarity with the subject."

M. de Kerzeuze set forth that France's need for submarines was an essential feature of her naval defense.

Discussing what he termed the necessity for a new international naval conference, he pointed out that "there are many clauses concerning submarines which would be re-written."

International Fleet.

"Today France is obliged to stay armed because of one of the greatest injustices in history, namely, the withdrawal of the guarantees given her in the Versailles treaty," he continued.

"Let the allies guarantee us freedom of the seas and peace on land and we will disarm."

"Better still, let the allies will allow a proposal for general disarmament and replace them with an international one, we shall be the first to agree to the United States furnish to this international fleet 10 ships, England 10, France 6, and Italy 6. Then the world will have peace, and not until then."

"Let us create, while there is time, a real league of nations. The present one is useless because it is un-armed. Arm a new one and it can command peace."

J. C. West Dies.

Girard, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—J. C. West, a prominent planter of this section, died early Tuesday after a few days' illness. He had been suffering for some time previous to his death with high blood pressure, but not actually confined to bed. He is survived by his widow. The interment will take place at Corinth Christian church.

FIVE ARE ARRESTED FOR FLOGGING MAN

Georgetown, Texas, April 5.—Five men arrested yesterday after an investigation by a court of inquiry in connection with the flogging by unmasked men of R. W. Burleson, traveling salesman, last Sunday, were out on bond today at $1,000 each on charges of assault with deadly weapons and $250 for each for unlawfully carrying pistols. Each of the men made bond yesterday. They will be held under bond to await action of the grand jury, which will meet in May. The men are H. A. Hewitt, chief of police of Taylor, Texas; Sam Threagill, Dewey Ball, Olin Gossett and Murray Jackson, all of Taylor. The flogging occurred on the San Gabriel river, eight miles from Georgetown. Burleson, from Weir, a town near here, was taken from an automobile, whipped and beaten on the head with pistols, then brought to Taylor and chained to a tree near the city hall according to the police. Three buckets of crocodile dip were poured on him, Burleson said.

Sir Conan Doyle Declares Lincoln Was Spiritualist

Famous Author Returns to U. S. to Complete His Lecture Tour.

BY HARLAND S. MILLER.
United News Staff Correspondent
New York, April 5.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who fathered Sherlock Holmes in his youth, but now nurtures a little bevy of fairies in his old age, hailed the statue of liberty Wednesday with the announcement that Abraham Lincoln was a spiritualist.

This announcement, which Sir Arthur declared ought to be of intense interest to all good Americans, precedes his completion of an unfinished lecture tour, called off a year ago because of bad weather.

Sir Arthur and his private fairyland arrived on the Olympic after a 26 hours voyage which delayed the ship 36 hours. He was accompanied by Lady Doyle, two sons, his daughter, and J. Malcolm Bird, associate editor of the Scientific American.

Seeking Fairies
For the past six weeks Bird has been following every footstep of the author-spiritualist, determined to see every fairy that Doyle sees. So far the canny little folk eluded their combined scrutiny.

Much palaver with the Pixies has made Sir Arthur a bit mysterious. His gossip of goings-on in Eftland was punctuated with sudden silences and strange gestures. At times he seemed to listen for a small guiding voice.

Surrounded by a score of journalists, Doyle was inclined to limit his comment to the word "mumbo," when asked about his most recent investigations, until one scribe shot the word "ectoplasm" at him.

"Now, understand me, gentlemen, I have not been doing much research work myself," he replied.

Touched Ectoplasm
"I have attended eight seances recently, in London, Paris, Berlin and Munich," he declared. "But I was not much impressed."

"It has been granted me recently to touch a piece of ectoplasm. It felt cold and slimy."

Ectoplasm, Sir Arthur defined, is a substance midway between the material and the spiritual, being nothing more nor less than a mixture of matter, or flesh, with ether. Its tendency, he indicated, is much like that of cold tapian pudding.

Doyle declined for a time to link himself more closely with spiritualism, but eventually admitted that a Mrs. Maynard had said so, in a book, and that he is convinced she was right.

Pictures of Ectoplasm
Photographs of ectoplasm will be featured in his present lecture, instead of the pictures of the little girls playing with fairies, which amazed superstitious Americans and sceptical photographers a year ago. Sir Arthur has several, he declared.

Mr. Bird has also been successful, he declared, in acquiring a negative in which two ectoplasmic ghosts peer over his shoulder, one on each side. This picture was taken by Doyle with a camera and negative selected and initiated by Bird, and shows objects resembling human heads, faint and vague in outline, staring at the camera.

In his search for fairies in America Sir Arthur declared that he pins most of his faith on Madame Blavatsky, of Toledo, Ohio, because in his opinion her understanding and liaison with fairies is the best in the country.

The scientific American has posted $5,000 for any person developing negatives or phenomena under test conditions which prove the existence of psychic manifestations.

"Mr. Bird can scarcely expect to learn much about the fairies," said Sir Arthur, "in my next six weeks, when I have been studying them 36 years and don't know everything about them yet."

Lyre-birds can imitate the songs of other birds and also the bark of wild dogs, it is said.

BLAMES REFINERS FOR SUGAR PRICE

Acting Chairman Smoot, of Senate Finance Committee, Says Refiners Want Low Tariff.

Washington, April 5.—Present prices of sugar were laid wholly at the door of the refiners today by Acting Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, who issued a statement declaring the refining interests hoped to get a tariff low enough to destroy the American producing industry, and bring control of every pound of the commodity into their hands.

Senator Smoot said he hoped for an early investigation of sugar prices and suggested that the tariff commission call as its first witness, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who is the ranking democrat on the committee, and who has alarmed the tariff for the present situation.

"The present price of sugar," said Senator Smoot, "is but the carrying out of the program of the sugar refiners. They have a three-fold object in view, namely, first, to secure a reduction in the rate of sugar; second, to create a prejudice against American sugar products with a hope that the American people will demand a reduction in the duty on sugar low enough to destroy the American industry and bring control of every pound of sugar produced in the United States and at a price fixed by them; third, to recoup their lost profits sustained the early part of the year 1922, when they reduced the price of Cuban 95 per cent sugar to 1.67 per 100 pounds for the purpose of dealing a death-blow to the beet sugar producers of America, who had contracted with the farmers for beets at $12.00 per ton for the yield of beets for the year 1921."

The greater part of the sugar made from these beets was necessarily marketed in the early part of the year 1922. The sugar companies of America lost tens of millions of dollars. "Our credit and our honor were impaired and the refiners would have been successful in their well-planned death-blow to the sugar producers of our country if outside assistance had not been secured."

"The Fordney-McCumber act reduced the rate of Cuban sugar 16 cents per hundred pounds, not $4.00 per hundred pounds as the refiners are now trying to have the American sugar consumer believe. I hope for an early investigation of the present high price of sugar as well as of the necessity of duty required to save the industry to America. I have no fears whatever as to the results."

BUSINESS NORMAL, DECLARES MELLON

Washington, April 5.—Secretary Mellon views present business conditions as nearly normal. He said today, on his return from the first vacation he has had since taking the treasury portfolio. His trip included visits to several important eastern industrial and commercial centers.

The general situation, the secretary described as "very normal." He added that there appeared to be an unusual amount of free capital for investment purposes. He cited the quick absorption of recent government securities issues as well as issues of stocks and bonds by industrial corporations as proof of the plentiful supply of money. "Credit" conditions, he said, "are very good."

Georgia Tech Woman's club, Mrs. J. F. Cannon, chairman, no report Thursday, $400 previously reported. Lions club, W. C. Wilkins, chairman, $365. W. A. Brown's committee, of the First Christian church, partial report $700; Georgia Tech alumni, George E. Jones, Jr., chairman, partial report, $1,000; War Mothers, Mrs. Irving Thomas, chairman, $300.52 Atlanta chapter, O. E. S., Mrs. Joe E. Haley, chairman, $239.

$170 Is Reported
Temple Sisterhood and Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Sam Schoen, chairman, $170; Exchange club, M. S. Johnson, chairman, $112; woman's auxiliary, First Presbyterian church, Mrs. George J. Yundt, chairman, partial report, $500; Jones Street Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. Roy C. Jones, chairman, $100.

American Business club, Dr. Louis Prosterman, chairman, $136; Dante Circle, Mrs. J. L. Shipp, chairman, partial report, $175; Mrs. George W. Corley's committee $273.27; Order of Eagles, $50.

Individual donations reported included a check for $100 from the Western Electric company, and $185 subscribed by the employees of the American Railway Express company.

100 Per Cent Basis.
Solicitation of individual business and industrial firms by their own committees continues and quite a number have already qualified for the 100 per cent honor emblem. Many of the largest corporations having hundreds of employees, are still continuing their canvass, since it has been impossible to reach all their force in this short space of time; actively at work in this regard are the Western Union Telegraph company, the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, Georgia Railway and Power company, and a number of others.

It is stated that the campaign at Fort McPherson is now under way and is under the personal supervision of Major General Shanks, who is following the results of the canvass with the keenest interest.

The report meeting Thursday afternoon was addressed by Colonel Albert A. Kimball, special effort secretary of the Salvation Army for the department of the east, with headquarters in New York city. Colonel Kimball spoke of the successful drive which is now in progress in the metropolis, and a number of other campaigns which have recently resulted in 100 per cent donations. He stressed the fact that the final clean-up of the campaign can be depended upon to bring the ultimate success or failure of the drive, and he urged all workers to a continuation of their efforts until success could be achieved.

Ganna Objects To California's Climate, She Says

Singer, in Paris, Denies Rift With Husband, Harold McCormick.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY
United News Staff Correspondent
Paris, April 4.—Discovered: one person in this wide, wide world who doesn't like the sunny clime of California. It's none other than Ganna Walska, the polish grand opera star and bride of Harold P. McCormick, who left the United States after several dramatic critics had hissed her operatic act.

Ganna, after intimating that she wouldn't be a native daughter of the west for all the tea in China, denied, smiling her Walska-esque best, that she and McCormick, the millionaire harvester and former husband of Edith Rockefeller, had separated.

She explained that just because she refused to accompany McCormick to California some months ago when he sped westward with his mother from Chicago, that did not signify that she and her husband had quarreled.

"I'm going back to the United States in July to join my husband," she said. "I dislike California. It is overrid, I did not want to go there. I need snow-storms, lightning—something vigorous."

Despite the fact that the critics had meant things to say about Ganna's voice, she declared she liked the United States and received a grand reception.

The star plans to sing here in Paris for a while and then go back to her native land of Poland and give concerts, after which she will leave for America to rejoin her husband.

When asked concerning her stepdaughter, Mathilde McCormick, who is engaged to marry Max Oser, former Zurich stable proprietor, Ganna said:

"I know nothing about that little girl. She has a mind of her own. I'm not allowed to say just where she is. I know she isn't married yet."

Carnarvon Family To Abandon Work At Tomb of Tut

Following Death of Earl, Americans May Take Over Research Work.

BY RALPH H. TURNER.
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, April 5.—Lord Carnarvon, son of the Earl of Carnarvon and heir to his father's title, will withdraw from further research work at the tomb of Tutankhamen.

Whether or not the curse of the Pharaohs contributed to the death of Carnarvon, it is stated confidently by friends here that the son will not submit his family further to the evil spell which England is now dramatically associating with his father's passing.

Furthermore, it was stated the new Earl of Carnarvon is not interested in archaeology and this fact, added to the unhappy incidents connected with his father's death, would lead him to drop pursuit of Tutankhamen.

Body To England.
Carnarvon's body will be embalmed in Egypt and returned to England—the last act in a tragedy, full force of which is realized in that, after expenditures of years of work and a fortune, the noted Egyptologist never saw the mummy of the Pharaoh he discovered because he decided to wait a year before actually opening the dead ruler's casket.

Meantime a perfect furor has arisen among the medical profession, Egyptologists and those of superstitious frame of mind as to the cause of Carnarvon's death. Medical authorities say that he died of a blood infection, of which pneumonia was a complication. Egyptologists maintain the theory raised in some quarters that some black magic or poison left in the tomb of the Pharaoh was responsible for Carnarvon's death. But those who have consistently opposed what they declared to be "desecration" of Egyptian burial grounds, join with the superstitious in seizing Carnarvon's death as the occasion to point out that it were best to have left sleeping Pharaohs lie undisturbed.

"Just Pure Bunk."
To the sinister murmurings of this latter group, Sir Ernest Budge, keeper of antiquities at the British museum, says gruffly:

"The idea that the tragic fate which befell Lord Carnarvon was an act of vengeance by the spirit of the Pharaohs is just pure bunk."

With the likelihood of Lord Carnarvon's withdrawal from the research work, the Egyptian government, however, is without funds for this purpose. It has been suggested, therefore, that if the Metropolitan museum in New York, whose entire staff now is engaged in digging up Egypt, would finance the exploration work, it might be turned over to American control.

NO VERDICT REACHED AT COMMUNIST TRIAL

probably will not be decided until after the Rutenburg trial, which starts April 16.

Frank P. Walsh, of New York and Washington, chief of counsel for Foster and the defendants waiting trial, issued a statement tonight complimenting the jurors and Judge White.

"Of course, we are somewhat disappointed," Mr. Walsh said. "We had expected an acquittal."

First Test of Law.
The case against Foster grew out of his attendance at the communist convention. The state maintained that he was there as a member and paid official of the communist party.

The defense, however, asserted that Foster was not a member and went to the convention at its invitation to deliver a speech on industrial conditions.

The trial was the first test of the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism, passed during the war. The act makes it a felony punishable by ten years imprisonment and up to $5,000 fine to advocate sabotage, crime terrorism or other means of force and violence as a method of accomplishing political or industrial reform.

The sole question before the jury, Judge White said in his instructions, was whether the communist party had advocated crime and whether Foster had voluntarily attended the convention knowing that it did advocate such forbidden doctrines.

TAXATION PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BY SIMS

Declares Georgia Will Suffer If an Income Tax Is Passed.

Taxation and the segregation of the colored population are two of the greatest problems Atlanta has to face, Mayor Walter A. Sims told members of the junior chamber of commerce at their luncheon Thursday.

"The problem of taxation is absolutely vital," he said, "because states and municipalities for the past few years have been inclined towards the income tax system, and it is a question that will probably engage the attention of the legislature this summer. Should such a law be passed in Georgia it would prove an immense handicap to progress in this state."

Mayor Sims stated that the passage of such a law would cause many industries to leave Georgia for other states. Labor and capital are both concerned in the question, he said, for if industrial concerns are removed it would result in a large number of unemployed laborers.

"The means and methods of curing for the negro population that will accompany the growth of Atlanta is a very serious problem," he said. "Where are you going to build homes and pleasure parks for them? When you consider that the population even now is about evenly divided, you realize the importance of such a problem."

Mayor Sims stated that the smoke nuisance problem would be worked out by city engineers who would confer with experts in the enforcement of the law would eliminate a great deal of the smoke and a large

Palmer Blackburn, in a short talk, declared that the proposed central plaza would do much to eliminate smoke in the heart of the city.

John Slaton discussed the proposed establishment of the psychopathic ward at the Grady hospital, and declared that recent investigation had proven that one-third of all diseases could be attributed to diseased minds. He announced that the Fulton County Medical society had pledged its support and that Steve Johnson, superintendent of the Grady hospital, had pronounced it one of the most important needs of the hospital.

AMERICUS ELKS INSTALL OFFICERS

Americus, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) New officers were installed last night by Americus Lodge, No. 752, B. P. O. E., with Charles H. Mauk as installing officer. Those installed were: Exalted ruler, C. E. Marshall; esteemed leading knight, S. J. Clark; esteemed loyal knight, J. R. Stallings; esteemed lecturing knight, J. A. McDonald, Jr.; secretary, W. L. Morgan; tyler, Louis Rosenberg; representative to local lodge, C. H. Mauk, alternate, W. L. Morgan.

The retiring officers submitted reports showing the affairs of Americus lodge to be in excellent condition, with a satisfactory growth in membership attained during last year.

Change in Farm Credit System Declared Needed

Betts Says Georgia in Danger of Being Owned by Out-of-State People.

As long as the present farm credit system prevails in Georgia there is no hope for approximately 200,000 farmers in the state, George Betts, president of the Georgia association, declared Thursday night in an address before the April meeting of the Farmers' club on farm conditions.

"Mr. Betts, known throughout the state for his 'Turner county' doctrine, outlined to the gathering the 'dairy cow, hog and hen' program of farming which he offers as a solution to the present predicament in which Georgia farmers find themselves as they battle the boll weevil.

"Present farm conditions in Georgia are nothing short of terrible," he said. "Unless there is a right-about-face in Georgia's agricultural progress it won't be long before Georgia farm lands will be owned by persons in distant states. And unless methods are improved it may be best for them to take them over and pay the interest on them."

Georgia has more tenant farmers than any other state in the Union, he said. He pictured the state's dilapidated farmhouses and time-worn out-houses, and then in describing his feeble crop program, whereby farmers may market cream and pork and poultry products to pay operating expenses, pictured a state of $16,000,000.

To Erect $500,000 School in Honor of Belle Bennett

Methodist Women Plan Memorial to Memory of Deceased President.

Mobile, Ala., April 5.—Adoption of a plan for the establishment of a half-million dollar memorial in honor of Miss Belle H. Bennett, its president, was the order of business at the annual meeting of the Southern Methodist church today.

The plan, adopted by the church, was to erect a new high school building in honor of Miss Bennett, who died last year and an address by Bishop Edwin D. Moulton, of Nashville, Tenn., on the spirit of Methodism were the outstanding features of the annual conference of the Southern Methodist church today.

The plan adopted were recommended by the memorial committee and read by Miss Estelle Haskin, chairman of that committee. The memorial will be in the form of a greater bible training school, to be named in some way for Miss Bennett. Whether it should be an enlargement of the existing school or a new building in Kansas City, in which Miss Bennett was a teacher for many years, or an entirely new institution has not been decided.

The morning session of the council was devoted to prayer, songs, and scripture reading, led by Mrs. F. F. Stephens, of Columbia, Mo. Mrs. Stephens, acting president of the council, delivered her annual address, reviewing briefly and in a general way the work and history of the Southern Methodist church, and commending the members for their efforts and achievements, and outlining duties for another year.

Miss Daisy Davies, of Atlanta, and Miss Mabel K. Howard, of Atlanta, led prayers, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Chappell, of Nashville, editor of "The Missionary."

At noon the council held a bible hour, conducted by Dr. W. A. Smart, occupying the chair of systematic theology at Emory university, Atlanta.

Mrs. J. G. Adams, of Mobile, general chairman of the local arrangements committee for the council, delivered the welcome address.

The afternoon session was devoted to the reading of reports, announcements of standing committees and devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Fitzgerald S. Parker, of Nashville. Reports from Mrs. J. H. McCoy, of Nashville, administrative secretary, home field, other reports were by Mrs. F. H. E. Ross, Nashville, treasurer; Mrs. B. W. Lindsey, Nashville, home cultivation secretary, in charge of organization, and Miss Althea Jones, of Houston, Texas, superintendent of children's work.

Tonight's session included devotional exercises led by Dr. C. A. Rush, presiding elder of the Mobile district, and an address on "Home Missions in America today" by Mrs. McCoy and Mrs. Downs.

PREDICTS RECORD CUSTOMS INCOME FOR FISCAL YEAR

Washington, April 5.—Prediction that customs receipts for the fiscal year ending next June would exceed $600,000,000 and possibly approach $800,000,000 was made today by Senator Smoot, of Utah, the senior republican member of the senate finance committee and one of the leaders in drafting the present tariff law. The senator said his estimate was based on calculations furnished him by the treasury and if borne out, would exceed the previous high record of $357,000,000 in receipts in one year under the Payne-Aldrich law.

Some treasury officials, however, disagree with the estimate made by the Utah senator because, they said, it was yet too early to determine whether the unusually high customs receipts for February and March were an indication of a definite trend upward in imports or whether the totals for those months largely represented seasonal shipments of raw sugar. Should the sugar imports be offset by the usual percentage of exports of that commodity after refining, the rebate of duties paid on them will materially affect the monthly receipts.

Senator Smoot's study of the import records gave assurance, however, that the tariff law was working equitably. This is proved, he declared, by the fact that the importations include almost exclusively commodities known to commerce and trade.

Chapman left behind no trail, except the imprint of his body in the soft turf below the window and a few footprints as he made his hurried exit from the hospital grounds. The trail ended at the sidewalk where, officers believe, an automobile awaited him.

Jesse Bennett, a taxicab driver, was grilled by the investigators today. Bennett told officers last night that two well-dressed men wanted to hire him to drive them to the hospital. He said he refused, despite one of the men flashing a large roll of money at him. He said a short time after he refused them he learned of the escape.

Bennett's story links with that of a ticket seller at the union station, who said the strangers tickets to New York shortly after Chapman was said to have jumped from the hospital window.

Chapman was confined in the hospital because he was too ill, according to authorities, to be removed to the Atlanta prison. A wound in a kidney and one in the right arm, which almost shattered the bone, were causing him much suffering.

Shortly before he escaped his temperature was recorded at 100, and on the nurse's chart his condition was termed "weak." Hospital authorities said it would be impossible for him to go very far on foot, and that the theory advanced by officers at work on the case that confederates were waiting outside the hospital for him.

The prisoner while under treatment at the Atlanta penitentiary, overpowered a hospital guard and made his escape with Gray. He was sentenced in New York to serve 25 years for robbery of the mails. Gray has been taken back to the penitentiary to complete his five-year term.

KLONCILUM SUPPORT CLAIMED FOR SIMMONS

One of his lunch in order to expedite the hearing it was necessary to recess the hearing. Simmons' counsel insisted that the hearing be concluded and Attorney Etheridge offered to submit the matter without argument for the sake of time, but Judge Thomas announced adjournment for the day.

Colonel Simmons and a large delegation of his followers were present in court. Dr. Evans was not present and did not attend the Wednesday session. Attorney Etheridge told newspapermen that he did not care to "humiliate and embarrass" Dr. Evans by having him present.

Many Women Present.

A number of women were among the spectators. Officials from practically every county department were present and took a keen interest in the proceedings. The jury box was filled with newspaper reporters and representatives of the local news associations. Colonel Simmons, upon his arrival, greeted them with the jocular remark, "Well, this is a pretty tough-looking jury."

T. J. McKinnon, head of the investigating department under Evans, furnished $1,000 bond each when arraigned before Judge Hathcock Thursday afternoon on municipal court warrants sworn out by E. J. Jones, Simmons' cashier, charging larceny after trust of approximately $107,000 in klan funds.

At the hearing Saturday morning McKinnon and Furney will contend that they anticipated a "raid" on the palace by Simmons and his faction and withdrew the funds to prevent Simmons from getting them. Attorney Paul Etheridge told a Constitution reporter that Monday he had instructed the two officials by telegram from Washington to take such action and that the funds are still in possession of Furney and McKinnon.

BODY OF FRED MURRAY TO BE BROUGHT HERE

Former Atlantan Was Shot to Death in Office in Porto Rico.

News was received yesterday giving details of the death of Fred A. Murray at Guayama, P. R., on March 24.

Mr. Murray was in charge of the Porto Rico irrigation service, having gone there from Atlanta about sixteen years ago, at the inauguration of the work, and continuing in various important capacities until he was made chief of the service some five years since.

On March 24 a man who had been discharged for incompetency entered the office and demanded that he be reinstated. Upon being denied his plea he left, saying he would come back.

About 10 o'clock he re-entered the office, where Mr. Murray and Mr. Luchetti were engaged in their routine work, and began shooting at them. Five shots were fired, none struck Mr. Luchetti, but two hit Mr. Murray, one passing through his heart, killing him almost instantly.

Laurance Squire, his son-in-law, will reach New York from Porto Rico on Monday next bringing Mr. Murray's body for interment here. The funeral will be held during the week, the time and place to be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray retained their membership in Central Congregational church even after leaving Atlanta for many years.

Mrs. Murray is a sister of Mrs. Benjamin M. Hall, of 506 Spring street, this city. She made her home here for several years and has many friends all over the state. She and her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Squire, will remain in Porto Rico for a time, until Mrs. Murray is strong enough to make the long journey home, when doubtless she will resume her residence here.

BLIND MAN ASKS RIGHT TO SEE CHILD

after officers had been notified that his wife and child were facing starvation, at their home, 353 Luckie street. He told the officers that he had "lived in hell since he had married" and that on several occasions his wife had abused him and forced him to give her the meager donations received daily from sympathetic passersby.

Standing before the judge with tears gathering in his eyes, he pleaded his own case eloquently in a few simple words that went straight to the heart. He said his wife had mistreated him, and told how he had longed for the "feel" of the tender baby hands since he left them last Saturday night.

"I have never refused to support the child," he said, "but I will spend the rest of my days in jail before I will live with my wife again."

"She should treat me as a man and keep my home clean for me, because a blind man is a man the same as anyone else, but, judge, is there any law that can keep me from seeing my child?"

The judge informed him that there was no such law, and placed him in the hands of Probation Officer Hollingsworth, who arranged for the weekly payments and the fondling of his child.

REOPEN METHODIST CENTENARY DRIVE

Waveros, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) The Methodist centenary drive reopened in Waveros today with addresses by a number of prominent Methodist speakers. The purpose of the present drive is to collect the unredeemed pledges made to the centenary in 1919 in order to prevent suspension of the expansion program of the church adopted at that time.

Bishop William N. Answorth, of Macon, president of the South Georgia conference, was the principal speaker. The other eminent pulpit speakers are Dr. Ed E. Cook, of Nashville, Tenn., who is secretary of the Sunday school board, and Dr. A. C. Miller, of Little Rock, Ark., editor of the Arkansas Christian Advocate.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

Paris. (By The Associated Press.) Contrary to expectations, the conference called to consider reimbursement of the American occupational expenses in the Rhineland did not conclude its labors. Adjournment was taken until Monday, and a final meeting will be necessary later to establish a complete arrangement.

Paris. (By The Associated Press.) There will be no daylong saving time in France this year. This was finally decided on at a cabinet meeting at President Millerand's summer residence at Rambouillet. The cabinet members made frequent trips to Strasbourg time, which is a half hour earlier.

New York.—Action of officials of the Bellevue, Pa., Methodist Episcopal church in ejecting sixteen hooded men who entered the church in the midst of Easter services was held up as a model for other churches to follow in an editorial in the current issue of The Christian Advocate, official organ of the denomination.

New York.—American and foreign fire insurance companies reporting to the New York insurance department greatly increased their assets, capital and net surplus during 1922, according to statistics made public by The Spectator, an insurance periodical.

Washington.—Observance of prohibition in Wisconsin, famed for its beer in pre-Volstead days, is steadily improving, according to Clark M. Perry, Wisconsin director of liquor, who said former brewers were aiding in enforcement work in that state.

Chicago.—Farm experts from 12 states and Canada and Chicago grain men have completed plans for the international grain and hay show for which the Chicago Board of Trade for the fifth time contributed $10,000 in cash prizes for the best grain and forage crops.

According to a decision recently handed down by the supreme court, enlisted men of the aviation service, training for reserve officers, are not entitled to pay of $100 a month during training. This ruling will affect more than 20,000 former service men, involving $8,000,000 in money.

The American army costs each man, woman and child in the United States $293, which compares with $30.70 spent for every Russian, $20 for every Frenchman, $13.69 for every Italian, $11.90 for every Briton, $11.11 for every German and $2.24 for every Japanese.

Soda water, or pop, is said to have about the same energy food value as buttermilk and three times as much as watermelon.

BIG COLLECTION OF TAXES SEEN

Returns Received From Two Counties Indicate State Will Get Larger Sum Than Anticipated.

Despite financial stringency over the state, brought about principally by the boll weevil all indications point to collection of the largest percentage of state taxes in Georgia's history, according to officials of the state comptroller's department Thursday.

Statements to this effect were based on complete 1922 tax returns from two counties, the first to be received by the comptroller, which showed almost 100 per cent collections of state taxes in these counties. State officials believe the amount collected will be considerably larger than the sum anticipated.

Two Reports Received.
The two reports of 1922 taxes received were from Whitfield and Schley counties. Whitfield county tax collector of the former county enclosed the full amount of taxes charged $51.22 in insolvent general taxes and $86 in insolvent poll taxes. The total amount charged this county and for which a check was enclosed was $39,375.22.

Tax collector J. R. Hall, of Schley county, which was charged $9,399.58 submitted his complete return of 1922 state taxes which lacked only $22.17 in insolvent general taxes and $722 in insolvent poll taxes. Both of these returns were considered exceedingly strong evidence of splendid effort on the part of the taxpayers and tax collectors.

County tax collectors have until April 20 to file their complete returns and collections from 1922 state taxes. It is expected that between now and this date virtually all collections will be received by the comptroller's department.

Seek Excess Revenue.
A concerted effort on the part of county school boards to obtain from the state treasury the sum of $626,000 as its share of excess revenues was begun Thursday according to resolutions received by Governor Hardwick, Attorney-General George N. Napier, Comptroller-General W. A. Wright and Superintendent of State Schools M. M. Parks.

Claims for this amount were based on the act of the 1921 legislature which appropriated one-half of the estimated revenues from 1922 and 1923 taxes. The figures of $626,000 is said to represent one-half the excess revenues over $8,500,000 for the two years which will be collected from 1922 and 1923 taxes.

To substantiate this claim the resolutions state that the income from the state revenues last year was $9,740,000 and therefore, instead of the $1,250,000 which the schools received they should have received $4,875,000.

Commenting on this matter Superintendent Parks declared: "I favor the payment to public schools of the excess funds, and am hoping that as 1922 tax returns come in the governor finally will be able to authorize payment of this additional amount."

Sheriff Garner's Bank Accounts To Be Inspected
Judge Sibley Authorizes Going to Check Accused Liquor Conspirator's Income.

Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley issued an order Thursday directing the Bank of Lawrenceville, the First National Bank and the Bank of Commerce, all of Lawrenceville, to turn over books and other records of accounts of Sheriff E. S. Garner, Deputy Sheriff Howard S. Garner and Deputy Sheriff J. M. Bonnard, to George E. Golding, special agent, intelligence unit, internal revenue department, for the purpose of checking income tax returns filed by the three Winnet county officials.

All records of accounts and business transactions through the three banks by the three officials during the period from January 1, 1917, to March 26, 1923, are called for by the order, and the officers, employees or agents of the banks are directed to appear at any place in the northern district of Georgia on subpoena of Mr. Golding.

All three Winnet county officials are under indictment for conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law. Two other deputies of Sheriff Garner were also indicted by the federal grand jury.

The order set forth that Mr. Golding is authorized by the commissioner of internal revenue to investigate correctness of income tax returns. Mr. Golding demanded this information on March 30, it was stated, but the banks refused, complying with a recent ruling of George N. Napier, attorney-general of Georgia, in which he stated that the banks were under no legal obligation to furnish information of this kind without specific court order.

It was upon the grounds that the records would be of service to the commissioner of internal revenue in ascertaining correct returns of the Winnet county officials that the court order was granted, officials stated.

POSTAL RECORD SET
Receipts Monday Exceed All Figures of Past.

Monday coming in the Easter season, also following the first of the month, which was on Sunday, resulted in postal receipts going to approximately $20,000 in Atlanta that day, or higher than for any previous day in the history of the office, according to Postmaster E. K. Large.

Receipts through stamp sales, box rentals and money order fees composed the bulk of the record business of the day.

FORD DEMOCRATIC ON GEORGIA VISIT

Holds Informal Reception on Veranda of Albany Hotel—Plans Visit to Berry Schools.

Albany, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—Henry Ford does not consider it necessary to tell anybody why he has stopped over in Albany for a couple of days while on his way north from Florida, but a hundred persons here have managed to get acquainted with him since he rolled in this afternoon in his big automobile and proceeded to look the town over.

He was as democratic as a candidate for alderman, and seemed glad to meet those who sought him out as soon as they learned he was in town. He talked about Florida, south Georgia, roads, Muscle Shoals, Ford cars and the industrial revival, and sat on a hotel veranda and chatted pleasantly with his new acquaintances. His chauffeur registered him as "A. Henry," but the manufacturer made no attempt to hide his identity. Mrs. Ford will join him here tonight and they will remain in Albany tomorrow. Mr. Ford accepted an invitation to attend the Kiwanis luncheon Friday afternoon, and said he might also blow in on a get-together meeting for the Albany Chamber of Commerce Friday night. He will visit the Berry school, near Rome, Saturday.

Mr. Ford left his car immediately after reaching town and set out for a walk. Most of those who passed him failed to recognize him, but his face was familiar to others, and he was holding an informal reception shortly after he reached the hotel where he is stopping and took a seat on the sunny veranda.

Several men and one woman told him they wanted to vote for him for president. He declared he had not the remotest idea of seeking that or any other office. "But do you know," he added, "it is astonishing to me how many folks I meet here in Georgia who are telling me they want to vote for me. I appreciate it, but I'll have to disappoint them."

As yet nobody has tried to sell the manufacturer a power site or a railroad.

FORD WANTS MUSCLE SHOALS.
Albany, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—Henry Ford spent last night and forenoon today in Valdosta en route to the north from his Florida home. He was accompanied only by his chauffeur and was traveling alone, or did not register at the hotel, in an effort to escape the crowds that have greeted him on his southern trip.

He did a little shopping, buying some garden seeds from a local dealer, an axe from another, and sat for a number of photographs with a local photographer to be sent to his Detroit home.

He was quickly recognized on the streets this morning and the crowds demanded a speech which he declined with a smile and a shake of the head. He would not discuss the presidency, when assured that the people here were for him, but said he would like to have Muscle Shoals in order to help the farmers get cheap fertilizers.

INVITE HENRY FORD TO MUSCLE SHOALS.
Florence, Ala., April 5.—The Florence chamber of commerce, the city government of Florence, the presidents of the four civic clubs of the city and various organizations this afternoon joined in a telegram addressed to Henry Ford, at Albany, Ga., urging him to come to Muscle Shoals if his automobile trip contemplated bringing him anywhere in this neighborhood.

If Mr. Ford can arrange to come here, one of the largest popular demonstrations in the history of this section will be staged for him, the city and its various civic bodies promised.

HIRSCH ROBBERY NEGRO SUSPECTS JAILED BY POLICE
Five negroes suspected of implication in recent burglaries, including the Williams-Plint Lumber company's offices, at 240 Elliott street, the recent robbery of the J. N. Hirsch company's place in Marietta street, and of a grocery store on Simpson street, were jailed during Thursday by detectives.

Some of those under arrest, it is claimed, have made a full and complete confession of their part in these and other robberies, implicating others. A number of articles stolen from the places named have been recovered by the detectives.

Those held are Pearl Gelly, Linsey Gleton, George Moore, of 80 Magnolia street, and Jessa Sullivan, of 104 Foundry street, and Emma Gaines, of 29 Mechanic street.

They were arrested by Detectives Lon W. Evans and R. E. Whitley, who were detailed by Captain T. O. Sturdivant to investigate the robberies.

Carpenter Will Ask for Return Of Market Site

Makes Statement Following Request That Council Amend Contract With Corporation.

A resolution providing for immediate return to the city of the site purchased last year for a municipal market and placed in the hands of a corporation of private citizens, headed by Colonel William Lawson Peel, to be utilized for this purpose, will be introduced before the finance committee of council for approval by Alderman J. L. Carpenter at a special meeting of the committee Friday afternoon, it was announced Thursday.

Alderman Carpenter's announcement followed a request of the market company officials to Mayor Sims and council Wednesday morning for permission to amend the original contract entered into between the city and the corporation so as to allow the holders of the property the right to use it for other purposes than a municipal market, in the event the project turned out unsuccessfully.

"The request to amend the contract is outrageous," declared Alderman Carpenter, "and shows the utter lack of honor of the corporation. I never allow this property to be used by this corporation for any other purpose than what it was originally intended for. The city can use it for a new police station or we can sell it and in doing so obtain badly needed funds for waterworks improvements or street paving."

"My resolution will oppose any modification of the contract and will ask the corporation to return this site to the city."

In its petition, the market company states that it is ready to proceed with the erection of a building on the site, provided the contract is amended. Should the project turn out unsuccessfully, the petition recites, the holders of the bonds issued by the market company "shall be compelled to take over the property to protect their interests and would want the legal authority to operate the property for any other legitimate business purpose."

The property in question was purchased last year by the city at a cost of $85,000. It is bounded by Peach street, Bell, Butler and Poaz streets.

BARNARD BOYKIN FORMS GENERAL INSURANCE FIRM
Launching of "Barnard Boykin and company," general insurance, at 25 Poplar street, was announced Thursday by Barnard Boykin, former secretary of the Empire Trust company.

The "and company" in the firm name, represents John H. Hay, Horace Holleman and H. H. McCall, Jr., according to the announcement, but Mr. Boykin himself will be in active charge.

The new concern will deal in insurance of all kinds—casualty, fire, bonds, automobile and others, representing only old line stock companies.

Mr. Boykin was in charge of the Empire Trust company's insurance department before he launched his new enterprise.

WATSON ENTERS PLEA OF GUILTY TO EMBEZZLEMENT
Augusta, Ga., April 5.—S. M. Watson, at one time state senator and formerly president of the First National bank at Colquitt, entered a plea of guilty on 33 counts of an indictment charging violation of the banking laws, before Judge William H. Barrett, in United States district court here today and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Watson was indicted last December at Albany, Ga., in connection with the embezzlement of between $120,000 and $125,000 from the First National bank at Colquitt.

Counsel for Watson, in asking leniency, brought out the information that Watson had turned over to the bank to make up the shortage, property belonging to him and his wife valued at approximately $120,000.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETIES ORGANIZED
Milltown, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Two women's missionary societies were organized recently by Mrs. J. S. Sorel, one at Vancor and one at Concord church, in the eastern part of Lanier county.

At Naylor Mrs. M. G. Braswell was elected president, while at Concord Miss Irma Williams was elected president. Each is to have monthly meetings. Naylor's meeting day is to be Wednesday, after the second Sunday. Concord's meeting day is Saturday afternoon before the fourth Sunday.

ERWIN GETS SIXTEEN YEARS FOR SLAYING

Is Alleged to Have Killed L. P. Downey in Alabama in January.

Anniston, Ala., April 5.—(Special.) A verdict of murder in the second degree and a sentence of 16 years' penal servitude was brought in by the circuit court jury against Truman Erwin, of Maxwelltown Tuesday night for the killing of Leiford P. Downey at that place during January of this year.

The verdict was brought in at 9 o'clock after the jury had been out for about four hours. Erwin killed Downey at the former's place of business during an altercation before bystanders could interfere. Erwin's attorneys at once filed notice of appeal.

Three hours after his brother, the late J. B. Boswell, was buried in the Eulaton cemetery, J. E. Boswell, a well-known West End citizen, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia; the elder brother having died in the same house on Hunter street Sunday night.

Mr. Boswell is survived by his widow, three children and one other brother, one of the children being reported as critically ill with pneumonia at the time of his death. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at Eulaton.

Funeral services for William A. Darden, secretary to former Governor Thomas E. Kilby, will be held Thursday afternoon at the Parker Memorial church at 4 o'clock. The service will be conducted by Rev. James T. McGlothlin and interment will be made at Hillside cemetery.

The active pallbearers will be Harry M. Ayers, C. B. Wells, C. M. Woodruff, Fred Bell, John B. Orr and Walker Reynolds. The honorary escort will consist of former Governor Thomas E. Kilby, William E. Feagan, J. H. Edmonson, A. J. Goodwin, Whitfield Clark, L. C. Watson, Frank McCraw, W. S. Kilby, T. D. Donoho, H. F. Lee, J. E. Johnson, H. L. Cater, Leon C. Bradley, Fred H. Gormley, who will accompany the remains to their last resting place.

Mr. Darden is survived by his mother, Mrs. Edna Darden, of this city; three brothers, Wesley Darden, of Birmingham, and Arthur and Edwin Darden, of Anniston; two sisters, Mrs. H. H. Montgomery, of Anniston, and Mrs. Tom Curry, of Greenwood, Miss.

A circuit court jury Wednesday night returned a verdict of guilty against Henry Wells, negro, charged with killing Louisa Edwards last summer. His punishment being fixed at 25 years in prison.

ALLEGED INSULT TO YOUNG WOMAN RESULTS IN FIGHT
As the result of an alleged insult to a young woman, A. D. Barron, of 82 West Peachtree place, is in the Grady hospital and James A. Osborn, three brothers, Wesley Darden, of Birmingham, and Arthur and Edwin Darden, of Anniston; two sisters, Mrs. H. H. Montgomery, of Anniston, and Mrs. Tom Curry, of Greenwood, Miss.

Osborn claims that he was walking along the sidewalk on Forsyth street with his sister when Barron insulted her. When Osborn resented the insult a fight ensued.

Harris Explains Gain in Textile Business in Dixie

Increase in Last 20 Years Has Been More Than 400 Per Cent.

The reasons for the south's rapid development in the textile manufacturing business were outlined by George S. Harris, president and manager of the Exposition Cotton Mills, at the forum dinner meeting of the American Institute of Banking at the Kimball house Thursday evening.

Mr. Harris explained the greater proportionate gain of this industry in the south over the gain in the north, business having increased more than 400 per cent in the south in the past 20 years as compared with a 45 per cent increase in the north for the same period, by calling attention to the advantages of better labor, lower freight rates, because of nearness to source of production of raw cotton, and the invention of the hosiery-making process which gives the south equal advantages with the north so far as climatic conditions affect the manufacture of cotton.

In giving his reasons for the south's rapid strides in the development of the textile industry, Mr. Harris quoted from a report by Kenneth Moller, a direct product of better labor, lower freight rates, because of nearness to source of production of raw cotton, and the invention of the hosiery-making process which gives the south equal advantages with the north so far as climatic conditions affect the manufacture of cotton.

In this report, quoted in part in the New York Journal of Commerce, the advantages of the south were outlined as follows: Better labor conditions; lower cost of raw material; better freight rates; better labor legislation.

Mr. Harris pointed out that the textile industry in New England had at present for one of its chief problems, the tax question.

A. B. Bankston, chairman of the forum committee, announced following the address of Mr. Harris, that in the near future a meeting would be held at which either Ex-Governor John M. Slaton or Governor-Elect Clifford Walker would be present to discuss the tax problem of Georgia in its relation to development of the textile industry.

CHARGE CHECK RAISING
Young Savannah Placed Under $4,000 Bond.

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Joseph Crampton, well known young man, today was placed under both of $4,000 on a charge of raising four checks, $1,000 bond for each check alleged to have been "improved." Two checks for $3 each had been raised to $30 and two for $4 had been increased to $40 each. It is said Crampton denied connection with the raising of the checks.

He is a collector for the Bevo company and the checks were passed, it is said, in connection with his collections from soft drink stands. Trouble was experienced in locating the person who had handled the papers.

Schooner Overdue.
Mobile, Ala., April 5.—The three-masted schooner, Albert Meyer, 398 tons, McLoughlin master, from Mobile to Manzanillo, Cuba, is 23 days overdue at the latter port, according to L. A. Scott, operating owner. The vessel is out a total of 55 days from its port. The usual voyage is two weeks.

Georgia Association Conference Here Today At Chamber Commerce

The Georgia association has invited agricultural, live stock, and poultry specialists from all parts of Georgia to attend a conference to be held in the assembly room of the Atlanta chamber of commerce beginning at 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of working out details of plans already outlined for an intensive "cow, hog and hen" campaign to be carried on in the member counties of the Georgia association during April and May.

Animal husbandry and extension leaders of the State College of Agriculture; live stock and poultry marketing specialists from the state bureau of markets; agricultural agents of railroads; representatives of the extension forces of the L. W. Rogers company and the International Livestock Company, and the DeLaval Cream Separator company and other manufacturers of machinery applicable to the Georgia association farm program, are to attend, as well as a number of county agents and the directors of the Georgia association, including President George L. Betts, of Ashburn, who were guests at the dinner of the Presidents' club Thursday night.

It is stated that the recent action of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce in placing its agricultural department back of the Georgia association's farm program and membership subscriptions made by Scott W. Allen, of the L. W. Rogers company's ex-Senator Hoke Smith, H. G. Hastings, Joseph M. McCord and others, have placed the Georgia association in a position financially to push its farm department work with vigor.

The federal government has paid out approximately $750,000.00 in compensation and insurance claims to ex-service men.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR SCHOOLGIRL THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Ellenor Mae Taylor, 16, died Wednesday afternoon at a private sanitarium. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Taylor, a sister, Miss Elizabeth Taylor; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers.

Miss Taylor was a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school and church and one of the most popular girls of senior class of Girls' high school, enjoying a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the chapel of Harry G. Poole at 3 o'clock.

HUNT AUTO THEFT GANG White Women Are Sought in Car's Disappearance.

Atlanta detectives and Fulton county police Thursday learned of the operation of a quintet of automobile thieves—two white women, two white men and a negro man—for whose arrest a dragnet has been spread.

The five, according to information gained by the officers, drove up beside the automobile of J. J. Dickson, 48 Dunn street, one man getting into Mr. Dickson's car and connecting up the electric switch while another pretended to be working on the car the thieves drove up in. Within a few moments both cars started off at a high rate of speed.

The theft was witnessed by A. B. Griffin, postmaster at the West End branch, who was sitting on the porch of his home across the street from where Mr. Dickson lives. Mr. Griffin was unaware of the effort being made to steal the car until it started off, following the machine the thieves came in.

"Listen!" said Cotherstone. "You remember the night of Kitley's murder?"

"Aye!" said the superintendent. "Good reason to?"

"Let your mind go back to it, and to what you've since heard of it," said Cotherstone. "That night I wanted to get a word with Kitley. I went up the wood towards Kitley's cottage—and all of a sudden I came across him—just where we found him afterwards."

"Dead?" asked the superintendent.

"Only just," replied Cotherstone. "But he was dead—and I saw what had caused his death, for I struck a match to look at him. I saw that empty pocketbook lying by—I saw a scrap of folded newspaper, too, and I picked it up and later put in a safe place."

"Well—I went on, up to the cottage. The door was open—I looked in. You woman, Miss Pett, was at the table by the lamp, turning over some papers—I saw Kitley's writing on some of 'em. I stepped softly in and tapped her on the arm, and she screamed and started back. I told her he was murdered. "What're you doing with his papers there?" I says. "Papers," she says. "They're naught but old bills and things that he gave me to sort." That's a lie!" I says, "those aren't bills and I believe you know something about this, and I'm off for the police—to tell!"

"Then, she pushed the door to behind her and folded her arms and looked at me. 'You tell a word,' she says, 'and I'll tell it all over the town that you and your partner's a couple of ex-convicts! I know your tale—Kitley'd no secrets from me. You hold your tongue, and I'll hold mine!' she says."

"So with that I walked out—and just as I was leaving the wood I heard a man coming along. It was this woman's nephew—Pett, the lawyer. Either he or the old woman killed Kitley!"

The superintendent jumped up. "This woman's leaving the town tomorrow," he said. "I'm going up there with a couple of my best men."

"I'll come with you," said Cotherstone.

There were thin cracks of light in the living room window of the Kitley cottage when the superintendent halted his companions outside the garden gate.

"You keep back, Mr. Cotherstone," he said. "Hello! What's that?"

Men were coming up the wood behind them. One of them revealed himself as one of the superintendent's own officers.

STATE INDUSTRIES MEETING IS MAY 8

Executive Subcommittee at Macon Thursday Sets Date for Permanently Organizing Georgians, Incorporated.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Citizens from all sections of the state will meet at the city auditorium in this city at 10 o'clock the morning of Tuesday, May 8, for the first big gathering of Georgians, Incorporated, the organization which has been formed to weld together state-wide activity in the state's industrial expansion.

of Georgians, Incorporated: R. L. McKinney, editor of the Macon News; W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph; C. B. Lewis, president of the Macon Chamber of Commerce; John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, and Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech.

It was announced at the meeting that Dr. Stanley will shortly appoint a finance and organization committee of the body to present plans for definite progress of plans at the Macon meeting.

Mr. Stanley declared at the meeting today that the entire state seems to be awakened to the need of immediate attention to the industrial development of the state and that the temporary headquarters of the organization in the state capital in Atlanta had received hundreds of letters indicating that the people of the state were anxious to co-operate to the fullest with the movement now on foot.

Expressions from others attending the session, all of whom are members of the executive committee appointed at the initial meeting in Atlanta, March 17, indicating that active preparations are going on all over Georgia to enter wholeheartedly into the plans of Georgians, Incorporated, and work for more industrial growth all over the state.

NO ARRESTS MADE IN BRIGHT BEATING

Macon Victim of Kidnappers Collapses—Two Hundred Welts Mark His Back.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—No arrests have been made up to a late hour last night in connection with the kidnapping of Mrs. Fredericka Pace, of New York, and Lyndon L. Bright, which occurred from the former's automobile last night.

Bright collapsed late this afternoon after a conference with his lawyers. He is now being attended by a physician. An examination of his back in the presence of friends, according to the latter, disclosed 200 welts, or lash marks. It was stated that there is not an inch of his back, from his neck to his ankles, that is not scarred and in some cases the skin is broken. Officers were thrown off the track late this afternoon in their investigation when they discovered that the license tag said to have been attached to the kidnapper's car was for a small touring car of popular make. Although neither Mrs. Pace nor Bright would discuss the case today, it was indicated from the sheriff's office that they had furnished information of value to them in their investigation of the kidnapping and whipping.

Didn't Have Chance.

Bright, who has been an athlete since boyhood, having been at one time champion cyclist of Georgia, said that he didn't have a chance to defend himself last night. A man thrust a pistol in his face, after his car was pointed, he said, and commanded him to throw up his hands. He obeyed the command.

Bright at his home late tonight said that he was going to leave Macon just as soon as he regains his strength. He thought that possibly by Monday he will strong enough to go.

Bright went to the office of Attorney Douglas Feagan before 9 o'clock this morning and Mrs. Pace appeared about an hour later. Julian Unglauer, who is assistant with Attorney Feagan in the divorce proceedings instituted recently by Bright and heard in Bibb superior court Monday, was present during the consultation which lasted until after 12:30.

Mrs. Pace has planned to leave Macon in a few days, it is said.

Emphatic denial was made by Mrs. Bright that she had made any advances to Mrs. Pace as the latter sat in her automobile in front of the Western Union Telegraph office yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Bright said that she saw Mrs. Pace sitting in the car, but that she passed by unnoticed, and came down the opposite side of the street when she turned to her hotel. The kidnapping occurred near the Tabernacle Baptist church. Resistant Testimony.

Mrs. Pace told officers the kidnappers said they resented testimony of a negro in Bright's divorce case against Mrs. Bright on last Monday. Bright said they also whipped him after they charged him with an attempt to take his property away from his children. He said he could identify some of his assailants although he did not know them personally. Mrs. Pace was not molested further than being forced to watch the beating.

Mrs. Bright, when informed at her hotel last night, of the kidnapping and whipping, said she "was very glad to know there were some men in the world anyway." Mrs. Pace declared before officers that Mrs. Bright knows all about this kidnapping.

deuts were aroused by what at first seemed a flat fight. They reported the matter to the police. Investigation of officers brought out a deserted car in which the kidnappers were found with Bright's name thereon. Several persons then told police that the deserted automobile had been parked in a large and small car, and thus came the clue to a kidnapping. Deputies immediately were ordered to scour the vicinity. The scene of the kidnapping was near the spot from which Dr. Eugene Schreiber, of Boston, was kidnapped several months ago.

Residents who were witnesses, said the circumstances in last night's affair were almost identical with the Schreiber case, even to the type of automobile used.

Walking Toward Atlanta.

Bright and Mrs. Pace were found by deputies walking towards Atlanta. They said the route taken to the scene of the kidnapping was of such character as to confuse their sense of direction.

After relating the incident to police, Mrs. Pace was taken to her hotel, and Bright left without stating his destination. He was wearing a bandage on his forehead, caused by the lash, and it was understood that a doctor had been summoned to give him attention.

Mrs. Pace lives with her mother at 437 Fort Washington avenue, New York city. She recently figured in a suit brought by Mrs. Bright for alienation of her husband's affections. The case was settled out of court. Mrs. Pace said she came to Macon to protect herself against anything which might be brought up in the Bright divorce case. She was not called to the stand.

FRANCE SEEKING NOW TO REGAIN BRITISH BACKING

London, April 5.—France, according to cables from London, is attempting to patch up the differences with Britain which arose because of the former's occupation of the Ruhr.

From a reliable source, it was learned Wednesday that Louis Loucheur, the leading industrialist of France, and former minister of the liberated areas, and Stanley Baldwin, British chancellor of the exchequer, held a conference Tuesday and reached a quasi-agreement concerning a possible compromise of the Franco-British views on the Ruhr.

Loucheur discussed with Baldwin in detail the British and French divergence in opinion, it was learned.

In view of the bitter opposition of the laborites and the dissatisfaction of the liberals with the government's Ruhr policy, it seems impossible that Baldwin could even have gone halfway toward an understanding with France.

This belief has given rise to the conjecture that, if a quasi-agreement had been reached, it is probable that France made great sacrifices and is, perhaps, ready fundamentally to change her policy.

RAILROADS PLEAD FOR PUBLIC HELP

made to bring about the prosecution of road and building construction work as early in the season as possible in order that equipment may be available for larger movement of seasonal commodities.

"That all interested will be impressed with the necessity for loading all cars to maximum capacity in an effort to bring the average loading to 30 tons per car for the entire country; for unloading cars promptly; increasing storage facilities, where necessary and providing adequate siding capacity to facilitate loading and unloading, thereby increasing the number of available cars."

"8. That every possible means be adopted to increase the mileage per car per day to an average of 30 for the entire country, particular attention being given to prompt movement through terminals and yards and to the issuance of embargoes when necessary to prevent congestion."

Adoption of the program was accompanied by the following statement: "Anticipating the greatest volume of freight traffic this year in their history, the railroads today adopted a concerted policy and intensive working program to enable them to meet the growing transportation needs of the country."

"Despite the obstacles placed in the way of transportation service since July 1, 1922, by the cumulative effects of the coal miners' and shopmen's strikes, the railroads have, between July 1, 1922, and March 17, 1923, a period of 37 weeks, handled the greatest volume of traffic ever transported during any corresponding period in the history of the country."

Heavy Expenditure.

"In full realization of the necessity for the greatest improvement and expansion possible of the country's transportation facilities to meet the growing demand of commerce, the railroads have authorized since January 1, 1922, for cars, locomotives, track, and other facilities, the expenditure of $1,540,000,000, of which $440,000,000 was actually expended during the year 1922."

"The railroads of the country are raising this enormous amount of additional capital largely through borrowed money on the abiding faith in the business of the American people and reliance on the continuance of the policy announced in the transportation act of 1920, as a measure of reasonable protection to investment in railroad property."

"From January 1, 1922, to March 15, 1923, the railroads purchased 223,616 new freight cars. Of these 117,280 have been delivered and put in service. The railroads during that time also purchased 4,219 new locomotives. Of that number 2,106 have already been placed in service. Practically all the equipment still on order is to be delivered by fall, at which time freight traffic is always the heaviest. Subsequent orders for additional cars and locomotives are constantly being placed."

"The railroads have already established and have in active and effective operation, a comprehensive organization in the car service division for the central control and distribution of freight cars which, during recent periods of car shortage, has under difficult conditions, secured to the public the best possible use of available freight equipment."

Push Repairs.

"The freight car repair program is to be prosecuted with a view to conditioning for grain and grain products movement, which showed a particularly noticeable increase last year, the largest possible number of box cars, and extraordinary measures are also to be taken to reduce the number of refrigerator cars awaiting repairs to the lowest possible limit."

"The effective co-operation of shippers during recent years has helped to lift American railroad performance to higher levels. At this time the railroads bespeak an even wider co-operation on the part of the public. It can assist by storing coal during the spring and summer months in anticipation of fall and winter requirements to as great an extent as possible. Everybody can help by looking forward. Every shipment which by foresight can be detached during April, May, June or July, will help to decrease any congestion in September, October, or November. Every shipper who will load cars to capacity and every consignor who will promptly unload cars will be so doing save the equivalent of many cars for the benefit of all shippers."

Husband and Wife Can Live Apart If They Desire

So Rules Hungarian Court, Despite House Shortage in Budapest.

Budapest, April 5.—Art has triumphed over the ordinary requirements of domestic life in Hungary. If man and wife wish to maintain separate apartments, living their own lives, the state cannot interfere.

That edict has just been issued here in a ruling which concerns two such celebrities as Franz Molnar, the famous playwright, author of "Lilium" and other successes, and his wife, Sari Fedak, the popular opera singer.

Pleading the desperate housing situation which exists in Budapest, a government official asserted his right to requisition the flat of either Molnar or his wife, who live in separate establishments. Decent folk had to live together, the official declared, adding that if Molnar or Sari Fedak refused to conform to this generally accepted morality, they should not be allowed to enjoy two different sets of apartments.

However, the judge to whom appeal was taken, ruled that married folks were entitled to adapt their modes of living to their own tastes.

"Besides," he said, "the reputation of Hungary demands that Franz Molnar and Sari Fedak be allowed to continue their artistic life and work without being molested. If they can only do their work in separate flats, the authorities must respect their views."

The decision was loudly applauded by a large court audience.

Trying Smoke Screens To Protect Orchards From Frost Damage

Baltimore, April 5.—Experiments to protect orchards from frosts by means of smoke screens, as used in modern warfare, are under way at Edgewood arsenal, it was learned today.

The experiments were begun Tuesday by the department of agriculture and the chemical warfare service of the army.

The tests are being made on fields instead of orchards. If the results of these preliminary tests are favorable, the work will be extended to orchards. Results will not be made public until the tests have been completed and reports made to Washington.

What the success of Linoleum in the Kitchen proves

MODERN linoleum came out of the kitchen. That is true. But what brought linoleum out of the kitchen?

Two things. The beautiful, tasteful patterns of modern linoleum made them desirable in other rooms.

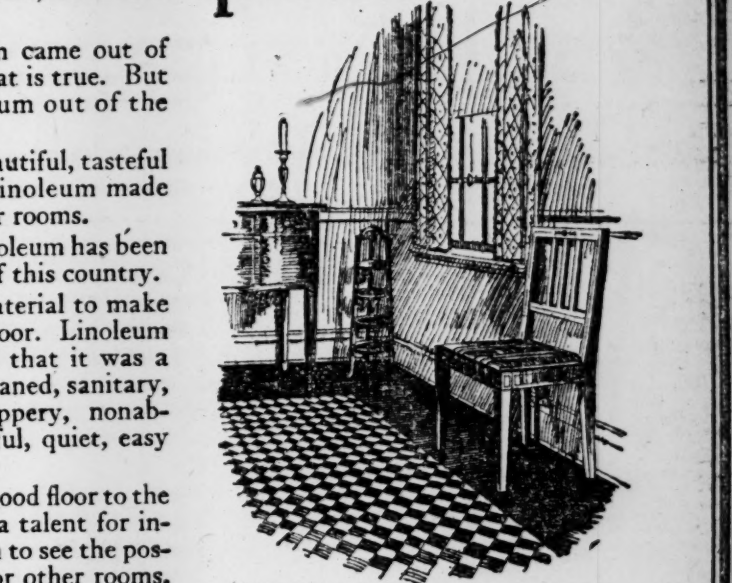

And the fact that linoleum has been tested in the kitchens of this country. It's a test of any material to make it serve as a kitchen floor. Linoleum in the kitchen proved that it was a floor durable, easily cleaned, sanitary, easy to install, nonslippery, nonabsorbent, resilient, restful, quiet, easy to care for.

You can't confine a good floor to the kitchen. People with a talent for interior decoration began to see the possibilities of linoleum for other rooms. And Armstrong's Linoleum was designed in patterns and colors suitable for use in any scheme of interior decoration.

Linoleum has color

Color is of importance in making rooms attractive. Linoleum is made in colors and designs that are as intrinsically attractive as are to be found in any floor material. And this fine linoleum—two-tone Jaspes, carpet in-lays, parquetry in-lays, inset and marble tile in-lays—has all the sturdy and worth-while qualities that made linoleum a success in the kitchen and bathroom.

Architects are specifying floors of Armstrong's Linoleum. Women who put linoleum floors in their homes are pleased with them. Good stores carry the new patterns. The value and beauty of linoleum floors is definitely established, and in new homes and old the use of linoleum in other rooms is increasing every day.

Write for free sample and booklet

Let us send you a sample of Armstrong's Linoleum and our 24-page booklet, "New Floors for Old." The booklet contains a score of colorplates of distinctive designs that you can see at good stores—Jaspes, carpet in-lays, tile in-lays, marble tiles and printed patterns; linoleum rugs printed and inlaid; also, information on laying linoleum and how to care for your linoleum floors.

Take the sample in your hands. Feel how warm, resilient, yet tough and durable good linoleum is.

INDIANS-TORONTO PLAY AT PONCE DE LEON TODAY

Stars Well Known in South Will Appear in Big Battle; Game to Begin at 3 O'clock

Stephenson, Speaker, Summa, Joe Sewell, Luke Sewell, Dan Boone and "Red" Wingo Among Those That Will Play.

By JOHN DENSON.

The only known Texas cowboy in the American league, namely, Tris Speaker, has brought his hip-hop college to Atlanta for a bustling game of the Toronto Indians at Ponce de Leon park this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Aside from the fact that Tris doesn't kick up the center field turf, when one of his gang pulls the much-discussed "season's honor," those several persons who visit the ball pasture would think that Tris Cobb, of Augusta and Detroit, had become an Indian.

The game this afternoon will give Atlanta fans a good sport at fast ball playing and with Joe Sewell, Riggs Stephenson, Dan Boone, former hurler for the Crakers; Jim Edwards, Wamby, of world series triple-play assisted renown; Guisto, and the old reliable "Steve" O'Neil, for the Indians, the fan folks of this town should and will get a peep of baseball under the big tent.

Wingo, in left field for Toronto, is a former Cracker slugger, and for the sake of old times we hope he busts a few to that right field dump today.

The Toronto Leafs have a few boys who have seen service under Ban Johnson and Judge Landis, noted among them are Wingo, and Frank

DART. TRIMS GEORGIA NINE

Athens, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) In their final appearance on the Athens diamond this year the Dartmouth team slugged themselves into a victory over the Red and Black of Georgia here this afternoon, the final score being 4 and 3.

At a last moment's choice Fred Sale warmed up for Coach White's gang and went to the firing line. For five innings he seemed to have everything a winning pitcher should have, however beginning with the sixth he weakened perceptibly and was in danger of being scored upon constantly. In this inning Dartmouth overcame a one-run lead furnished in the third, scoring a couple of times when Sale walked Steinhilber and Casewell doubled to right sending in their first run. Casewell was run down between third and second. Bjorkman singled, stole second and scored on Thurston's single.

Georgia came back in their half of this inning and scored two runs after Clark and Eldridge had both walked, when Allen hit a hot one through third and the visitor's shortstop kicked Middlebrook's grounder. Consecutive hits by Casewell, Bjorkman and Thurston knotted the count in the eighth and the winning run was put over in the tenth inning. After Bjorkman had tripled to deep left center, Thurston came through with his third hit of the game, driving the runner over for the deciding margin.

"I will never go to Ireland again," the black man said, "unless I can cross by way of England. I lost so much weight during the ocean trip to Ireland and back that I am now a middleweight."

Siki knocked out a diner in one of the best known Paris restaurants early this morning during a brawl.

Viewing the News

Jack Corbett wants us to point out one cause why he and Manager Otto Miller should not be entirely satisfied with the Atlanta baseball team, just as it stands as these lines are being turned over to the mercy of linotype operators and critical proof room. The assignment is given of this column.

The club, we are now reliably informed by President Corbett, will go to the post on April 17, exactly as it exists at this time. Every place is filled as was planned during the winter, when Corbett and his associates were fighting flu and drawing diagrams of the combination they would send to compete against other entries in the championship race. Not one deal fell through; every player wanted badly by the Crakers was delivered.

NO WORRY OVER BACK-STOPPING.

Corbett has known from the time Miller was signed as manager that Otto would do most of the catching. His sole problem was to decide between "Butch" Schmidt and Johnny Brock for second string duty. He has not announced the solution. The chances are that it won't matter one way or the other, for in most of the games Miller will do the catching and there isn't a better in the league.

Oscar Tuero and Benny Karr are the pitchers being depended upon to take over the larger portion of the hurling burden. Our private opinion is that Tuero is one of the three most effective pitchers in the Southern league and that Karr was waived out of the major leagues because some manager went to sleep or stood pat on a bad hand. Recent developments at various stations lead us to believe that Karr was passed down at the only time the deal could have been pulled over.

George Dumont, King Brady, Cliff Best, Dick Niehaus, Manley Lewellyn, "Lefty" Newberry and "Buddy" Williamson are capable pitchers, it seems to this observer. Newberry and Williamson lack experience, but the others are tried performers with creditable records. We see no reason why a splendid pitching staff should not be selected from these and who may possibly be traveling through the Carolinas on Atlanta expense money.

HERMAN WILL BE VERY VALUABLE.

Many fine things were said about "Cappy" Ricks, the young recruit, as he toiled away at Palatka, seeking to win summer employment as the Crakers' first sacker, but his fight was useless from the start. Throughout the winter President Corbett talked about a youngster he had in mind for that position who held the second highest batting average in organized baseball last season. The task of getting him to Atlanta was beset with peril, but finally it was announced that the deal had been consummated and that "Lefty" Herman would be the Crakers' first sacker.

Herman batted .416 last season. Now we maintain that a man who can hit at this clip, even when he is swinging at something as big as a Stone Mountain, is good enough to bang himself into the charmed circle of the Southern league. Herman is young, ambitious and has natural baseball talent that should make it easy for him to prove one of the circuit's outstanding first basemen.

TEMPERAMENT DOWD'S ONLY WEAKNESS.

"Snooks" Dowd will be the second baseman. Much of this young man's value to the Atlanta team depends upon whether or not he remains satisfied with his contract, the city, management, etc. Dowd is temperamental. There is no question about that. If he continues to be contented with his lot in Atlanta, he should turn out to be a real rival for those that aspire to be the Southern's best keystone. He was dissatisfied last season and a poor record resulted. The year before Dowd was correctly handled and set a base stealing mark in the International league that will stand for some time.

Baseball critics say that Glenn Killinger, third baseman, turned over to the Crakers by the Yankees, is one of the best prospects college diamonds have sent out in years. Fitted against Frank Baker last season, Killinger failed to unseat the veteran and went to Jersey City. He didn't set the woods on fire, of course—they don't usually start blazes their first campaign in professional baseball—but there was nothing in the record he made that would indicate Killinger is other than a valuable asset to any Class A club.

EDDIE MOORE'S BRIGHT FUTURE.

Eddie Moore, we believe, is destined for recognition as the most improved infielder in the league. That's how well this column thinks the Atlanta shortfield will be covered this summer. He is one of the most graceful scoopers we have seen in years; has apparently overcome his weakness in handling balls batted directly at him; and a dive into the batting averages of the last campaign prove that Moore was hitting oftener and harder than any man on the Cracker squad when the curtain dropped.

That is the infield situation. President Corbett declares that he would not exchange it for any other in the league and we are frank to admit that picking a better infield combination is a job far too difficult for us. "Flip" Neun, at Birmingham, will be Herman's greatest rival for first basing honors; Bert Niehoff is generally regarded as the premier second baseman, but third base is begging for a young fellow like Killinger to grab all the glory and Moore will put up a grand fight at shortstop.

Guyon and Burke were named recently on a list setting forth the ten best outfielders in the league last year and Langford, the west Texas youngster, was selected by President Corbett from several splendid outfielders who were made available by the Yankees. There should not be so much to worry about when outfielders are mentioned.

Hiss Fight Decision.

Springfield, Ohio, April 5.—Hisses and Jears of the stars of referee Lou Bauman, Cincinnati, following a decision given "Tut" Jackson, Washington Courthouse negro, in his 12-round bout with Jamaica Kid of New York, last night. Jamaica Kid led the fighting for at least eight of the rounds and the Washington boxer outweighed him by 13 pounds, hung on.

To secure photographs of the sun through air free from dust particles, moving pictures were taken of it by machines in an airplane at 16,000 and 17,000 feet altitudes.

Resume Chess Meet.

Chicago, April 5.—Frank J. Marshall, of New York, chess champion of the United States, and Edward Lasker, of Chicago, challenger, will resume their match here Saturday night, with the score tied, 21-2 each.

Marshall won last night's game on his 34th move, carrying on an offensive from the twelfth move, when he forced Lasker to exchange bishops, until the end of the play. After the fourteenth move the game was all in favor of Marshall.

BARONS TURN BACK ROOKIES

Birmingham, Ala., April 5.—(Special.)—Smutter Matthews' famous "pony and cart" yannigan outfit of 1923 is fast going the way of the "one-horse show," namely, to pieces. Three more essential parts of that rough riding machine have been cast aside and only a semblance of the grand old chariot remains.

Cosper, first baseman; Fleischmann, third baseman, and Nicholas, pitcher, are the latest ones to be released, all "regulars" with Smutter Matthews' yannigans. Baron seems well satisfied with the Cotton States league as a farm for young ball players, for all three of the above named men were sent to Laurel of the Mississippi loop. It was not stated whether the Baron bosses kept any strings tied to the men just released, but it is probable that some of the ones turned loose already this year will be back for another trial with the Barons next year.

Matthews' yannigans have been about wrecked now, and the squad is being trimmed down to something like working size. The entire infield—consisting of Cosper, Suggs, Snyder and Fleischmann—has been disposed of and all four of those boys will probably perform in the Cotton States league during the coming season. Some of them may regularize with the Barons in another season or two, for all showed enough stuff to be kept until the first week in April, something of a feat for a rookie ball player.

Of course, other releases are to be expected during the next day or so. The squad is still considerably over-sized, and a few more players will go shortly.

Grover (Cy) Young, right-handed pitcher, who has failed to come to terms with the Birmingham club, has been turned back to his last bosses, the Oklahoma City club.

Young was purchased last fall, but when a contract was sent him this year he and Baron moguls couldn't agree, so his contract was turned over to Oklahoma City. This announcement was made by Billy West, Baron secretary.

Pitcher Randolph, of the Cotton States league last season and quite a star in college circles, has sent word that he will report in June for his tryout with the Barons and Birmingham fans will more than likely have an opportunity to see the young twirler who burned up the Cotton States loop in action then.

CHARLESTON HIGH WINNER

Chicago, April 5.—Westport High, of Kansas City, Mo., came out victors over Bellevue, Ohio, in the first game of the national invitation interscholastic basketball tournament at the University of Chicago by a score of 21 to 16. The Kansas City team won the victory in the last few minutes of play, the score being tied at 8 all at the end of the first period.

Rockford eliminated Scott High school, of Toledo, in one of the most closely-contested games of the tournament, 24 to 22.

Charleston, S. C., defeated Walla Walla, Wash., 36 to 28.

Charleston had no difficulty in winning although the first half was the easier for the southern boys, the score at the middle of the game standing 20 to 9 in their favor. Walla Walla made a better showing in the last half although its right forward, Chaney, seemed to play the whole game for his mates.

Captain Morgan's Triple Sends Tech to Victory

After Pitching Masterful Ball for Seven Innings, Hines Weakens Against Maryland.

DARTMOUTH VS. TECH.

Georgia Tech and Dartmouth will battle this afternoon at Grant field at 3:30 o'clock. The Big Green will be the last of the eastern teams to be faced this spring by the Yellow Jackets. The Tech hurling staff is in splendid condition for the tilt with Dartmouth and the Jackets should give a fine account of themselves. Dartmouth is regarded as one of the most powerful of the eastern teams this season.

BY JOHN STATON.

Captain Eddie Morgan's triple to left field in the eighth inning of the Tech-Maryland game yesterday at Grant field was the blow that gave the Yellow Jackets a 4-3 victory over the visiting collegians. Morgan's clout enabled Joe Palminio, who had previously singled, to cross with the necessary margin.

Scrup Enloe, who relieved Hines in the eighth inning, pulled out of the hole and kept Maryland subservient long enough for Tech to put over the winning run. Up until the eighth inning Hines had Maryland on his hip. But the visitors got to him in this stanza and scored three runs. With the score tied and two out, Enloe went in and retired the side.

The game started with neither team showing much signs of life until Tech's half of the fourth. Tobe Edwards, first up, drew a free pass; Turner hit to the pitcher for what seemed to be an easy out, but the pitcher and first baseman got crossed up on which was to cover first. When the ball was recovered Edwards was on third and Turner on second. Hines walked, filling the bases. Then Eddie Morgan engineered himself a free pass and Edwards was forced in.

Tech came to again in the sixth inning, scoring two. Albright got a hit to right, Palminio hit one to the pitcher, who made a neat stop, but who promptly threw the ball away. Albright went to third, and left forwards, respectively, for

Charleston were the particular stars with a fast passing and a dribbling game. They were especially clever in following up their own shots and getting the ball off their opponent's back board for second tries at the basket.

"Teddy" Weeks, captain and right forward of the Charleston team, still was out of the game today as a result of a kick on the leg in his team's game with Dallas on Tuesday.

Ruth Visits Sick Lad.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 5.—"Babe" Ruth, the Yankee slugger, went seven miles into the country here yesterday to see a small boy who during a long illness had been asking in his prayers each night that he be made well enough to see Ruth when the New York club came to Vicksburg. When a sympathetic neighbor told Ruth about the lad, "Babe" immediately asked for an automobile to take him to see the bed-ridden little fellow. Ruth spent an hour with him.

The patent office at The Hague employs two women engineers.

"Little Joe" made it as far around as second. Eddie Morgan smashed out a hot one to short, who threw badly to the first baseman. Both runners scored.

Maryland was absolutely peaceful until the eighth inning, when the team went on the war path. The first man up struck out, but the next three to face Hines got singles. Out of the three singles came one run, and two men on bases. Hines struck out Moran and walked Semler, filling the bases. Two strikes were called on Pollock, and he tipped the third, Joe Palminio barely missed it. He socked the next ball for a clean single, Watkins and Nibbler scoring. Enloe relieved Hines at this juncture.

Joe Palminio caught a masterful game. Several times, when Hines was in big holes and pitching a trifle wildly, it was Joe's phenomenal stops that kept the team from advancing. Two men were courageous enough to try and steal. Both were out by a mile or so.

HERRIN DEFENSE RESTS THURSDAY

Final Arguments Due Today—Hundred Witnesses Seek to Prove Alibis for Defendants.

Marion, Ill., April 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The defense in the second Herrin riot trial rested its case today after having called nearly a hundred witnesses to testify to alibis for the six defendants charged with the murder of Antonio Mulvih, one of the 22 non-union men slain during the outbreak. Final arguments were expected to begin tomorrow.

The defense directed all of its efforts toward establishing a complete alibi for Hugh Willis, state executive board member of the United Mine Workers and one of the defendants. Testimony also was introduced to show that Robert Tracy and O. L. Lawrence, witnesses for the prosecution, were in the Herrin jail at the time when they claimed they had witnessed the tragedy.

Tracy and Lawrence testified that they were working at the mine of MONROE SHERIFF DIES R. C. Bittick Succumbs in Macon Hospital.

Macon, Ga., April 5.—(Special.)—Sheriff R. C. Bittick, of Monroe county, who was brought to a local hospital recently and who had undergone three major operations in an effort to save his life, died here today. He was only 39 years of age, and had been sheriff for three years.

Besides his widow, he is survived by five children. The body was taken to Forsyth this afternoon and the funeral will be held there Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Serving First Term.
Forsyth, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Sheriff Robert C. Bittick, of Monroe county, died at a hospital in Macon early Thursday morning following operations for appendicitis, it was learned here. Sheriff Bittick was serving his first term as sheriff. He was 39 years old and is survived by his widow, five small children, his mother and several brothers and sisters. Interment will be in the Forsyth cemetery Friday morning.

The Southern Illinois Coal company and described how the 48 workers and guards in the mine were marched out by an armed crowd after they had surrendered. They said they had escaped when the prisoners were lined up before a barbed wire fence and 14 of them shot down.

PHYSICIANS STATE LENIN'S MALADY TO BE INCURABLE

Riga, April 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two of the physicians who have been in attendance on Nikolai Lenin, the Russian soviet premier, Dr. Von Struempell, of Lepzig, and Dr. Nonne, of Hamburg, are returning home by way of Riga. They spent ten days in Moscow. While reticent concerning M. Lenin's condition, they nevertheless clearly intimated that the premier might die at any moment or linger indefinitely, and that the paralysis from which he is suffering is incurable and must inevitably cause death.

Lenin is being carefully guarded, and even the attending physicians must have a special permit for each visit, even if visits are made several times daily. The Baltic Press states that each of the specialists receives $5,000 every time he is summoned to Moscow.

AMERICUS SCHOOL HEAD IS RE-ELECTED

Americus, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) At its annual meeting held last night, the board of education of Americus re-elected J. E. Mathis superintendent of city schools. Action on the election of faculties for the various schools was deferred by the board until recommendations can be submitted by the superintendent. Superintendent Mathis has been connected with the schools here continuously during the past 19 years, and under his administration many modern ideas have been introduced into them.

RELIEF IS RUSHED LOUISIANA TOWNS

Alexandria and Pineville Hardest Hit by Storm.
Seventeen Dead, Over
Sixty Injured.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Alexandria, La., April 5.—The dead and injured having been accounted for, Alexandria and Pineville today began to take stock of the damage caused by the tornado late Wednesday night which swept this city and Pineville, across the Red river from here, taking a toll of 17 lives and injuring more than 60 persons. Meantime a relief fund for the homeless was launched here and the authorities were advised that the Red Cross had forwarded from its depot in Memphis a supply of tents, cots and blankets for the destitute in Pineville.

Pineville and the section across the river here were hit hardest; all of the dead and injured being found there. A check of the damage showed that 142 buildings in this vicinity were struck. 20 in Alexandria, 40 in Pineville, 24 in the Ruby addition, 50 in Milltown and the gymnasium and power plant at Louisiana college.

The relief fund launched this forenoon had passed $12,000 within a few hours, one of the largest subscriptions having been $1,000 from the Alexandria, La. Red Cross chapter. Red Cross headquarters in Atlanta, in addition to ordering material sent here telegraphed $500. Dr. Marvin Capet, parish priest, stated that three Red Cross emergency stations had been opened in Pineville. He estimated the homeless at "almost a thousand."

Reports were received here late today of the destruction of ten houses at Libuse, 13 miles east of Alexandria, with the injury of four persons. A half dozen families there were reported in need of assistance.

Two-Mile Swath.
Persons familiar with the destruction wrought by tornadoes expressed surprise that the casualties in Pineville were not greater, the disturbance having been one of the most severe in the history of the state. A course was a zipping for more than two miles and it swept virtually everything from its path. An automobile was found in a tree near Pineville today while two others were discovered under the debris in Main street.

Thirty-two of the injured were taken to the United States Veterans hospital near Pineville but physicians pronounced all but four only slightly hurt. The Salvation Army Red Cross and nurses and physicians at the hospital worked all night with the injured and only gave up their task when relieved or when there was no need for their services.

RED CROSS SENDS HELP.

Acting on a telegraphic report from their representative at Alexandria, La., that 2,000 people were homeless at Pineville, La., as a result of the Tornado there yesterday, the southern division of the Red Cross today dispatched 150 tents, and a like number of cots and blankets from Memphis. Additional relief will be sent to Pineville. The estimate of the number of homeless caused from this disaster today was about 1,000. Its headquarters here was also informed that the mayor of Pineville had asked for Red Cross relief. The representatives at Alexandria were empowered to utilize emergency funds if necessary.

$30,000 LOSS
FOR MISSISSIPPI TOWN.
Tunica, Miss., April 5.—Property damage estimated at $30,000 was reported today as a result of a hail and windstorm which damaged several buildings in the town of Tunica, four miles north of Tunica, late yesterday and caused property damage in other sections of Tunica county. At Hollywood a schoolhouse was blown from its foundation, a blacksmith shop demolished and the stores of E. D. Gilbert and R. M. Justice damaged. A steel bridge at McKinney lake was damaged to the extent of $5,000.

TWO NEGROES STORM VICTIMS.

Yazoo City, Miss., April 5.—King Crawford and Alfred Barney, negroes, lost their lives as a result of a wind and rainstorm which swept this section late yesterday. Crawford was drowned and Barney was electrocuted when he attempted to remove a live wire from a sidewalk.

N. C. TOWN DEVASTATED.

Wendell, N. C., April 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Struck late yesterday by a fierce tornado that injured approximately twelve persons, destroyed 165 buildings, wrecked others and badly damaged crops, Wendell, a little town in eastern Wake county, today was the scene of emergency workers as those hurt were given attention and an estimate made of the storm's toll in surrounding territory.

Officials stated a loss of about $100,000 had been caused by the tornado, according to their latest figures. One hundred barns, 50 dwellings and 15 truck houses were destroyed, it was asserted. A mass meeting was called for this afternoon to provide relief for families with no homes. Almost all the injured are negroes.

TWO INJURED IN MARYLAND.

Washington, April 5.—Two men were injured during a severe windstorm which swept Silver Spring, Md., and vicinity today. One house in the village, which is near here, was demolished, and a dozen more damaged.

SCHOOL POPULATION IN CHATHAM GAINS

Savannah, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) In the figures available for the recently completed school census, the first taken in Chatham county and Savannah since 1917, an increase of 3,332 children of the ages 5 to 15 is today noted. Chatham was the first county to report its full figures to the state school superintendent.

The school officials here and the people generally are gratified to note that the illiterates have decreased in Chatham in the five years, from 221 to 52, the percentage of illiterates in this county which has about fifty per cent colored and a considerable foreign-born population, being "a bare trace."

Complete School Census.

Americus, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Americus has a total school population of 2,239 children, 1,009 of these being whites, with 1,230 negroes. These figures were announced today by J. E. Mathis, superintendent of city schools, upon completion of a school census, which has been in progress during the past week.

Clifford Walker Talks to Rotary Club in Americus

Governor-Elect "Wants to Make a Good Governor," Then "Home and Family."

Americus, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) "I want to make a good governor, and then go back to my home and family," Clifford W. Walker, governor-elect of Georgia, told members of the Americus Rotary club here today, speaking at the weekly club luncheon where he was a guest. He said also that he had received all the honors he wanted or expected and had no ambition to be elected to the United States senate.

Mr. Walker touched the reasons New England cotton mills are moving to Georgia and attributed their coming to the fact that Georgia has the climate, the raw material, labor and low cost of living, though he added that it may be necessary for Georgia to exempt new industries for a period of ten years in order to secure these mills in numbers.

The governor-elect asserted during his talk that "for fifteen years Georgia had been engaged in partisan politics, and it is now time to get down to business and laid politics aside." He declared emphatically that no stable tax system can be secured for Georgia until the present tax equalization law is abolished and declared his purpose to use his influence to have the legislature abolish the present tax equalization law at the next session of the legislature and then perfect a stable and satisfactory system.

Referring to newspaper reports regarding his position on the income tax, Mr. Walker declared he either had been misquoted or misunderstood. "What I said," he told the Rotarians, "was that one of the states of the nation are coming into the income tax system, and unless our business men and your representatives in the legislature work out a suitable and satisfactory system that will cause invisible and intangible property to bear its part of the tax burden Georgia will adopt an income tax law."

Stephen Pace, senator-elect from his district in the next legislature, also was a guest and heard Mr. Walker's address with deep interest.

England's champion woman whist player is Miss Reinford, a farmer's daughter, near Liverpool, who won the national title in competition with fifty-five other county champions.

HARDING DECIDES TO END VACATION

Chief Executive Will Be Back at His Desk at the White House Monday Morning.

Augusta, Ga., April 5.—President Harding will be back at his desk at the white house next Monday. Announcement was made today by Secretary Christian that the chief executive and Mrs. Harding had decided to conclude their vacation in the south Saturday and that their presidential party would leave Augusta Saturday evening and arrive in Washington about midday Sunday.

This means that Mr. Harding has decided to decline invitations to visit several cities between Augusta and Washington. The president was said to feel that as a number of matters are pressing for attention he could not extend his absence from the capital longer. It has been just a month since he left Washington.

Governor Thomas W. Hardwick and W. W. Banks, executive manager of the Citizens and Southern bank, were guests of President and Mrs. Harding here last night. The visitors returned to Atlanta this morning. Today was merely a duplication of previous days of the president's vacation, consisting of a morning round of golf and an afternoon spent quietly at his hotel. Other members of the party were entertained this evening at a barbecue supper given by the Kiwanis club of Augusta.

In addition to the official business awaiting his attention upon his return to Washington, the president soon after getting back there will decide definitely with regard to the trip to the Pacific coast and Alaska which he has under consideration and also begin work on the addresses he is to deliver in case he makes the trip.

Patterson entered a plea of guilty when arraigned for trial but under questioning by Judge Custer declared he was innocent, and only made the plea in order to protect another man. The latter, who was also under indictment, gave his name as "J. D. Marshall," but admitted it was an alias. He told the court he had assumed the name in order to keep his mother and father, who live in an other town, from learning of his arrest and connection with the case.

Subsequently the charge of complicity in the theft of the car which had been lodged against "Marshall" was dismissed. Judge Custer ordered Patterson's case to proceed, and so conclusive did the evidence against him appear to the jury that his sentence to three to five years' imprisonment followed. The opinion was freely expressed by court officials that had he entered a plea of guilty, as he was urged to do, he would have escaped with a 12-month rest and connection with the case.

Mr. McClintock To Give Lecture At Woman's Club

A student of animal life and nature as it is found in the great north-west, and an explorer who has traveled far beyond the beaten tracks in the glacier regions of northern Canada and Alaska, Gray McClintock, who appears in a lecture recital at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium Tuesday evening, April 10, will tell his audience remarkable incidents in his career as prospector, plainsman, mountaineer, scout, trapper and frontiersman.

"Contrary to the usual belief," said McClintock, "I have never found it necessary to use a gun to protect myself from any wild animal." This and other theories regarding life in the far north will be explored by Mr. McClintock in his talk Tuesday evening.

His lecture will be illustrated by moving pictures of scenes in and along the Canadian Pacific railway and he will point out the line followed on early expeditions before the advent of the railroads and the long period of time it required to travel a few miles, against the modern method of traveling. Gray McClintock's experiences date back to the beginning of the gold rush to the Yukon in 1896 and he has seen Canada in its remarkable stage of development since that period.

Lake Louise, Banff, and the entire stretch of several hundred miles of scenic wonder known as "The Gap," west of Banff, will be described by Mr. McClintock, who will also discuss the tribe of Indians once living near Banff, known as the "Snaring tribe," so called on account of their hunting methods. The tribe is now extinct but the pits which they used for winter quarters, are still seen, and in these are the flint spears and arrowheads once used by the Indians. Wonderful fossil beds may be seen on the south and east sides of Lake Minnewanka, one of the many beautiful lakes in this region.

Miss Wilkes Will Speak Today

Miss Carabel Wilkes, noted Bible reader and evangelist, of Adel, Ga., will conduct a special devotional service in St. John church today at 3 o'clock.

Miss Wilkes is an unusual speaker and every church worker in the city is invited to attend this meeting. Peachtree place, Mrs. Biddle will be remembered as Miss Eva Chamberlain and has countless friends here who will welcome her home. She will remain in Atlanta until after opera week.

Mrs. John S. Adams and Mrs. M. A. Shewmake are visitors in the city as delegates to the D. A. R. convention.

Guy Lynn Melchor, Jr., arrived Thursday from the Columbia Military academy, in Columbia, Tenn., to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lynn Melchor.

Mrs. W. M. Coney, of Savannah, is among the most attractive and admired women attending the D. A. R. conference. She was formerly Miss Libetta Fannin of LaGrange.

Mrs. Price Gilbert and Mrs. Bolling Jones are in New York city.

Miss Agnes Shands, of Washington, D. C., a debutante of the winter, is the guest of Miss Grace Stephens at her home on Brincliffe road. Miss Shands is en route home from a stay at Palm Beach and other Florida resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawson have returned from their wedding journey and are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinnant, on East Fifteenth street, before taking possession of their apartment on West Eleventh street.

Mrs. Harry Chamberlain, president of the State League of Women Voters, who is now attending the national convention of the League of Women Voters in Des Moines, Iowa, will present to that body an invitation to meet in Atlanta next spring.

TODAY'S CHAIRMAN

Presidents Tell at Luncheon Of Constructive P.-T. A. Work

BY GRACE FISCHER.
A meeting marked by enthusiasm over work accomplished and work yet to be done was held by the P.-T. A. Presidents' club Thursday at 12:30 o'clock when members met at luncheon in the Ansley hotel and had presented to them in outline a program of the activities of the P.-T. A. convention that will meet in Atlanta from May 17-19, in addition to the regular monthly P.-T. A. reports, which showed the real and constructive work that the associations are doing this spring.

Mrs. David Wise, chairman of the Presidents' club, presided at the luncheon-meeting, which was held in the rainbow room of the Ansley grill. Mrs. W. L. McCalley, of the Joel Chandler Harris P.-T. A., gave the opening blessing.

Convention Program.
Announcement of the program for the P.-T. A. convention was made by Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, president of the East Atlanta P.-T. A., who announced that three affiliated conventions would be held in Atlanta during the week of May 17-18-19. The city and county superintendents and the Georgia Educational association will meet in Atlanta at the same time that the P.-T. A. is in session here and the presence of the delegates for these meets is expected to prove of signal interest to the P.-T. A. delegates.

A varied program is in store for the delegates. The opening convention meeting on Tuesday evening, April 17, will be featured with an address by Mrs. A. H. Reeves, editor of the Child Welfare magazine, and for 18 years prominently identified with parent-teacher work in New Jersey. Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, state president of the P.-T. A., will also make an address at this meeting.

The opening business session will be held on Wednesday morning, May 18, followed by luncheon at the Women's club. Mrs. Arthur Tufts will entertain at tea at Emory university in the afternoon during which time the delegates will be given the opportunity of visiting Wesley Memorial hospital. The meeting, Wednesday evening will be marked by an address by Lawton Evans, superintendent of schools, of Augusta, Ga.

The business session will continue Thursday morning, May 19. The delegates will be entertained at luncheon at 1 o'clock at the Druid Hills Golf club and in the afternoon a tea will be given for them at the Women's club.

The P.-T. A. delegates will be guests on Friday, May 20, at a barbecue, to be given at Emory university by the Georgia Educational association. Everything will be done for the convenience of the visitors, according to Mrs. Peterson, who in the name of Mrs. M. E. Aisle, credential chairman, urged the delegates to present their credentials at the Ansley hotel on Tuesday afternoon, between 2 and 4 o'clock, in order to make way for the visiting delegates the following day.

Talk On Thrift.
A talk on thrift, forceful and instructive with vision was made by Mrs. Murray Hubbard, chairman of the department of Junior Thrift, Insurance of the Atlanta Woman's club, and a woman for many years interested in P.-T. A. work, who stressed the importance of teaching boys and girls to save for a definite end. In a compelling manner she said that something must be done for practical thrift. Girls' High and Commercial High started banks last year and registered 1,308 accounts. But of this number, Mrs. Hubbard remarked, only 170 accounts were transferred at the end of the year, which showed that the students after all saved simply in order to spend. She urged that the P.-T. A. presidents do all in their power through the schools to show the children that earning counts for nothing unless they also save and invest wisely.

P.-T. A. Reports.
Reports from P.-T. A. presidents following, showed the active work that the associations are doing. Not merely do these P.-T. A. organizations of Atlanta mothers and teachers take special steps that the associations have been talking recently in regard to child welfare work, through baby clinics established, in forming millinery classes for girls in the upper grades; in daddy's meetings to get fathers in closer human touch with the schools and teachers; and, row that spring is here, in school gardens and grounds.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Slim, Short Coats Rival the Long Persian Tunic and Preserve the Boyish Figure, But They Demand a Youthful and Careless Demeanor of Striped and Checked Silk, Also Flared Fabrics Arrive With Such Coats.

Possibly the jumper jacket may soon disappear. At least it is not among the new pieces of costume offered for spring. It will continue to be worn, for it has been too universally accepted to be generally discarded. Its successor is the short, boyish jacket which, at its maximum length, reaches to hips. When it reaches to the waist, it is called a bolero.

This jacket shuttles in and out of fashion. Certain French dressmakers are responsible for its continuance, especially Lanvin and Jenny, two women designers who continuously please the American public. It might better be said they please the American manufacturer, for, after all, we universal subject that will never be settled; it will continue to provoke argument and bitter discussion. Fortunately, at this hour both American and French women wear the short tailored jacket. It needs a youthful carriage, because it suggests a boyish figure.

The sketch shows a coat suit for spring made of beige cloth with short, narrow skirt and slim, belted jacket, which makes no attempt to fasten in front. Its edges are far apart purposely to show a brilliant waistcoat of checked taffeta in blue, green and yellow.

The revival of Victorian femininity attaches to this boyish jacket a pleated collar and wristlets of lace. This is an innovation of importance. It proves that collars are really established. Pleated lace ruffles in sleeves were not expected this season. They smack of Bourbon days, but they are here, and it is good that we make the most of them. Tomorrow we may be masculine. Today we are feminine.

Girl's sport suit with a short Lanvin coat which shows a surprise waistcoat of checked taffeta. The flat collar and pleated ruffles are of deep cream lace, as much of this decoration is to be used.

buy what is offered. It is this method that causes a constant flow from French dressmakers that American women get their Paris ideas from a handful of commercial buyers.

This is true, but in what other way could several million women across the seas get their clothes? They cannot go to Paris. They cannot buy patterns of the clothes French women wear. They must abide by what they see and what they are able to copy. It puts all the power of our clothes into the hands of a few, but what else is there to do? Even the women who go to Paris and bring home frocks that are worn at that very hour by French women often find themselves so far ahead of the fashion over here, so utterly out of the American picture, that they hold the gowns for a later season.

All of that, however, is a commonplace.

Finance Committee
Will Discuss Dinner
Fund for Legislature

A resolution offered in council last Monday by Councilman Edgar Watkins providing for appropriation of $1,500 for entertainment of members of the state legislature this summer, will be discussed by the finance committee at its session Friday afternoon.

Council appropriated $2,500 for this purpose last year, which was expended on an elaborate dinner at the auditorium for the solons. Councilman Watkins declared that the city should make provisions for holding such affairs annually.

MRS. ROSE M. ASHBY TO LECTURE SUNDAY

The Atlanta Psychological society will meet at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the morning room of the Ansley hotel. The president, Mrs. Rose M. Ashby, will lecture on "New and Better Views of Psychology."

Mrs. Sykes Is Winner in Song Contest

The prize for the best song about the monolith was awarded by the judges in the Stone Mountain Memorial association's song contest to Mrs. Eleanor Johnson Sykes, of Birmingham, Ala., and William Deel, of Greenwood, Miss., sq Miss Nan B. Stephens chairman of the contest committee, announced Thursday.

Miss Stephens urged that all school children clip the song when it is printed in the daily papers and save it, as it will soon be featured in community programs throughout the state.

The prize of $100 went to the collaborators, Mrs. Sykes, who wrote the words, and Mr. Deel, who composed the music of "The Message of the Mountain."

There was a second prize which was awarded to Mrs. Grace Vaisiere, of Rome, who is president of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs.

Fifty-two songs were entered, and according to Miss Stephens, the majority of them were excellent compositions, which made the decision of the judges extremely difficult. Final decision was made at the home of Sam H. Venable, near Stone Mountain, where all the songs entered were sung by Miss Grace Stephens.

The judges included Gutson Borglum, the sculptor, who will carve the great Confederate Memorial across the face of the mountain; Mrs. Charles T. Phillips, Mrs. T. T. Stevens, Mrs. Frank Mason, Sam H. Venable, Dr. James Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Kellogg and Mrs. Martha Goode Anderson.

Possible Song Booklet.
Miss Stephens said the Memorial association hoped soon to publish a booklet containing a dozen or more of the best songs entered in the contest and use the booklet for community singing purposes.

Musicians' Club
Will Give Dance.

A pleasant affair of the week-end will be the assembling of the members and friends of the Musicians' club at the Roseland hall, corner Peachtree and Cain streets, for an evening of dancing. These dances are given every Saturday night and are a source of much pleasure to the young set. Former visitors are cordially invited.

The Draperies Of Spring and Summer

Nothing could be more in keeping with the joyousness of spring and breezy summer days than lovely cretonnes and dainty curtains.

There was a time when we could guarantee that cretonnes would fade; we would hesitate to do that now, for day by day in every way their colors are getting better.

For the simple bungalow type of home we have delightful gay cretonnes in such charming designs and colors that one feels glad to be alive and in such an atmosphere of cheer.

For the same little bungalow we have smart-looking Tuscan Net curtain materials in a variety of attractive patterns—and Filet Net, which is still in favor. In New York the other day we saw dainty Filet Net charmingly combined with sheerest Marquisette, and its delightful simplicity held a rare appeal. Spring has come; we find it pleasing. Change is welcome. We weary of the same weather, and it changes. We weary of the same clothes, and change them. Why not change the whole atmosphere of the home by having new, dainty, cheerful draperies? Come in and look over our charming new things and discuss your drapery problem with our decorators.

CARE FOR YOUR LUGGAGE
There are few of our possessions that so quickly show the result of harsh treatment or that are so often harshly treated as articles of luggage, trunks, and suit cases, hat boxes and handbags. In the first place, always pay enough for any article of luggage to insure getting one of good wearing quality. Inspect it carefully. See that the handles are secured well, that the corners and edges are reinforced so as to withstand careless treatment. Then have any needed repair attended to at once. If a strap is loose have it sewed on at once. And don't overcrowd your bags and trunks. If you do this they will lose their shape. To be sure, a trunk that is fairly well filled carries clothes with fewer wrinkles than a trunk that is only partly filled. But there is a difference between overcrowding and packing just enough. A handbag need never be packed very full—that is, it is not necessary for the good of the clothes carried. And a crowded handbag is trained and tried to the limit of its endurance.

Black bags and boxes may be kept in good appearance if they are occasionally treated to a dose of shoe blacking. Some bags and trunks undoubtedly are helped by a good coat of varnish. Some people have heavy canvas or khaki covers made for fine pigskin or black leather cases and these undoubtedly do save the leather. Moreover, the cases that receive the soil of travel may be removed before the bags are taken from the house.

On the Hudson Bay trail in Canada the foot of travelers wore smooth soles of gold in the rock years before it was discovered to be gold.

Music Club Program Shows Development of Orchestra

ORCHESTRA WILL REPEAT SYMPHONY CONCERT.

The Atlanta Music club announces with pleasure that the splendid symphony concert given by the orchestra of the Metropolitan theater under Buel B. Risinger, conductor, for the club last Wednesday morning, April 4, will be repeated Sunday afternoon, April 8, at 3 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium and will be open to the public. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

The regular Wednesday morning program of the Atlanta Music club was held at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium Wednesday, April 4, under the direction of Mrs. Theodora Morgan-Stephens and Miss Marguerite Bartholomew.

The topic, "Development of the Orchestra," was treated in outline most clearly and comprehensively by Louis Bettman, who was pre-eminently qualified for the task, having made a special study of orchestration.

And as practical and graphic demonstration of the development and possibilities of the modern orchestra, it was the rare, good fortune of the club to present the orchestra of the Metropolitan theater under the baton of Buel B. Risinger, conductor, in a splendid symphony concert program.

With only a limited number of players at his disposition and necessarily handicapped by a lack of prop-

is well illustrated by the thousands of women who are entering every profession, almost every line of business and politics as well. They are bound to make good, and there is no question but what health is their greatest asset. Many women, however, develop weak, nervous conditions and cannot stand the strain of a professional or business life. Such women should remember when beset with headaches, backache, nervousness, irritability or any ailment peculiar to their sex that the greatest of all remedies for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring the women of America to health and strength. It holds the remarkable record of helping 98 out of every 100 women who try it.—(adv.)

er balance, the results achieved by Mr. Risinger were little short of marvelous. Supported by the excellent work of the orchestra, he was able to convey adequately and in a masterly and musically manner the composer's idea and intention.

The outstanding feature of the program was Tchaikowski's beautiful "Fourth Symphony" in F minor. Opening with a theme of fate, stern and sombre in character, and developed with Tchaikowski's characteristic richness of harmony and coloring, the second movement "in manner of a song" is based on Slavic melodies of woe and appealing sweetness, and leads into a Scherzo of rhythmic beauty and originality of treatment, in which the pizzicato work of the strings is a predominant charm. The finale reaches a wonderful climax in dramatic treatment of the thematic material.

After the symphony came a suite, "The Attraction of Pan," by Henry Hailey, an American composer and conductor of note, which was graceful and pleasing and interesting as an example of American program music.

The other members on the program were "Poem Eclogue," a beautiful transcription of MacDowell's piano composition, and Weber's famous overture to the opera, "Oberon," a joyous revel of nymphs and elves.

Mrs. Morgan-Stephens, as soloist of the occasion, delighted her audience with two violin solos, "Romance," from the Second Concerto, and "Dulciana," both by Wieniawski, and played with orchestra accompaniment.

The Atlanta Music club feels deeply grateful to the local artists for contributing so much to these most successful musical mornings.

STATE SCHOOL BOARD WILL CONVENE TODAY

The second quarterly meeting for 1923 of the state board of education will convene at 11 o'clock Friday morning in the state capitol. It was announced Thursday by Dr. M. M. Parks, state superintendent of schools and member of the board.

Routine business matters will be brought to the board's attention, it was stated. The board consists of the following members: Governor Hardwick, Chancellor David C. Barrow, of Athens; Dr. G. R. Glenn, Augusta; Dr. E. J. Forrester, Sparta; Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, Macon, and Dr. Parks.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

For Dainty Hands.

Save the lemon rinds and keep them near the sink to remove vegetable stains from your hands. They are great whiteners.

For the Tall Woman.

If your sink is just a little too low and causes backache when washing dishes, why not have a small table built that will fit in the sink and elevate the dishpan to the desired height? It would not be expensive and the comfort would be worth the expenditure.

A Fern Rejuvenator.

Two tablespoonfuls of olive oil at the root of your fern or palm once each month will make a decided improvement in the plant.

The best way to wash Tussore and Shantung silks is in bran water, allowing them to get perfectly dry before they are ironed. Then they will not be patchy.

Cooking Too Quickly.

If the cake, bread or beans in the oven are baking too quickly and getting too brown, set a pan of cold water in the bottom of the oven and it will cool it for you.

TRAFFIC DELAYED ON THE SEABOARD BY DERAILMENT

Traffic on the Atlanta-to-Washington line of the Seaboard Air Line railroad was tied up for nearly four hours Thursday when one car of a "hospital train" was derailed between Dacula and Auburn, Ga. No one was injured.

A defective car was said to have caused the derailment. The train consisted of 25 bad order coal cars traveling south, en route to Birmingham for repairs. The accident occurred at the Appalachia river trestle, and the derailed car rolled into the creek.

Passenger train No. 47, from Washington, was delayed about four hours and No. 6, Atlanta to Washington, was delayed nearly one hour while the track was being cleared. The accident occurred at 10:25 o'clock Thursday morning, and traffic was restored at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

Night Owls' Club Will Meet.

The next meeting of the Night Owls' club will be held at 176 Barnett street, Saturday evening. All members are urged to be present.

HEARING ON LEE CROSS PETITION POSTPONED

Hearing on the petition for pardon of Lee Cross, Macon business man now serving a life term for murder, which was set for Thursday morning before the state prison commission, was postponed until April 19, because the state was not represented. Judge W. L. McClelland, of Macon, appeared before the commission, however, in behalf of Cross and stated that the defendant's appeal for a new trial was rejected because of a technicality of the law, with which a majority of lawyers of the county are unacquainted.

Cross was convicted on a verdict returned at 10 o'clock at night to Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, presiding, for Judge H. A. Mathews, of Bibb superior court. Judge McClelland stated. At that time Judge Thomas was informed that the defendant would move for a new trial, the former stating he was leaving for Valdosta that night and the motion could be sent to him there, Judge McClelland stated.

"A special judge loses jurisdiction of a case immediately upon leaving the county in which it was tried," stated Judge McClelland "and the motion for a new trial should have been made to Judge Mathews and then forwarded to Judge Thomas. On this basis the motion was dismissed and the supreme court upheld the verdict."

NEW ENGLANDER CLUB OF 75 MEETS SATURDAY

The New England society has jumped to seventy-five members in two weeks, and names are still coming in. Joseph N. Reed, 33 Luckie street temporary secretary, and W. J. Sayward, Chamber of Commerce building, chairman, said Thursday. Luncheons are held every Saturday at 1 o'clock at the City club, 17 Poplar street, and every New Englander is invited. At the luncheon this week a committee will report on by-laws.

Mrs. Charles Sciple Honors Guests at Spring Luncheon

Mrs. Henry Tanner, of New York, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Sciple, and Mrs. A. W. Beidler, of Chicago, who is also Mrs. Sciple's guest at her home on Peach-tree street, were the guests of honor at a beautiful buffet luncheon Friday morning given by Mrs. Sciple, and at which sixty guests were assembled.

Quantities of spring flowers were used as floral decorations throughout the lovely rooms, and baskets filled with the pastel shades of the first blossoms of the spring were placed in every possible corner, adding their beauty and fragrance.

In the center of the luncheon table was placed a wonderful glass bowl of old-fashioned color and design of deep blue and filled with meadow blossoms. Old-fashioned candlesticks of the same blue glass further ornamented this beautiful table which was covered with a rare lace cloth.

The Lovely Gowns.

Mrs. Sciple received her guests in a very lovely afternoon gown of soft king's blue crepe.

Mrs. Tanner wore a handsome Cailot model of violet georgette fashioned with soft and exquisite draperies and combined with violet broadened velvet. With this she wore a violet straw hat with the most artistic touch of rose. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. A. W. Beidler, of Chicago, Ill., wore a handsome French gown of black satin with a small hat of black straw. A corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas and lovely pansies was worn with this.

Mrs. Charles Sciple, Jr., was gowned in an Egyptian model of sand-colored crepe.

Mrs. Charles Murphy Sciple wore a gown of dark blue crepe remaining among the handsomely gowned women was Mrs. Frank Ellis, who wore a beautiful robe of grey charmeuse combined with black satin and worn with a lovely hat of black straw draped with soft folds of lace.

Mrs. Hill's Gown.

Mrs. William Hill was beautifully attired in black charmeuse with a wide-brimmed straw hat with touches of French blue.

Mrs. Shepard Bryan was gowned in dark blue georgette with which she wore a wide-brimmed hat of black straw.

Mrs. Dunbar Roy wore a smart spring model of black accordeon-plaited crepe skirt and French blouse of black matelasse and gray furs. Her hat was of gray straw.

Mrs. Eugenia Speer Westmoreland was gowned in sand-colored crepe de chine, modestly fashioned, and worn with a stylish hat to match.

Mrs. E. P. McBurney wore a lovely gown of brown georgette veiling brown satin. Her becoming hat was of brown malines with sweeping paradise sprays.

Other Parties Planned.

Mrs. Tanner is receiving a cordial welcome from her friends in Atlanta her former home. Friday, with Mrs. Beidler, she will be the guest of honor at a luncheon which Mrs. Charles Conklin will give at the Druid Hills club.

In the afternoon Mrs. Preston Arkwright will give an informal tea at beautiful "Pinebloom."

Mrs. Frank Imman entertains for Mrs. Tanner Monday.

WOMEN MAY LISTEN TO HILL'S ADDRESS

Walter C. Hill, vice president of the Retail Credit company, will speak at the long table luncheon of the City club at 12:30 o'clock today on conditions in Russia. Mr. Hill recently returned from a trip made for the purpose of studying conditions at first-hand. At the Commonwealth club of San Francisco, Mr. Hill recently spoke to an audience of 1,000, and his address was pronounced one of the most effective in the club's history.

The City club inaugurates a new policy this week in opening its dining room to the families of members and guests. This will enable women to hear the long table discussions which feature the club meetings.

Cake Sale At Rich's.

The Nellie Peters Black chapter of All Saints' church will have a cake and candy sale at M. Rich Bros. today. Mrs. S. A. Farrell is chairman.

STUDENT NIGHTS WILL BE FEATURE OF BIG REVIVAL

Arrangements are being made to take care of great crowds of students in schools and colleges of Atlanta, who are expected to attend services in churches on student nights.

The committee in charge of the simultaneous evangelistic campaign now going on in the city, recognizing the difficulty of students attending the week night services in the churches, has designated the following as student nights: Sunday, April 8; Friday, April 13; Sunday, April 15; Friday, April 20.

Great crowds are attending the union services each day at the First Baptist church lasting from 12 to 1 o'clock. The topic for Saturday's meeting is "Have You Ever Spent a Day with God?"

POST NO. 1 IN CHARGE OF LEGION LUNCHEON

Atlanta post No. 1 will have charge of the American Legion luncheon at the Kimball house today at 12:30 o'clock. Moll K. Wilkinson, president of the Presidents' club, will tell the members how the legion can best serve Atlanta.

Music will be furnished by the Georgia Senators' orchestra, and Miss Mildred Ross will give several dance numbers.

AURORA CLUB NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

At the regular weekly meeting held Wednesday night, the following officers of the Aurora club were elected for the ensuing term: Charlie Bergman, president; Herman Rich, vice president; Hyman Meltz, secretary; Sanford Sannerstein, treasurer.

CHAPTER XXXII

Leonie Reconnects.

Warwick Tremaine sat next Marcella at the breakfast table, and made himself conspicuous in assiduous attentions to the girl.

"He knows I have been out with Miles! He wants everyone to realize—in spite of that—I'm his particular property!" thought Leonie, as she felt the mouse did in the trap, and yet firmly convinced there must be a way out, somehow.

She tried to catch Miles' eye. Leonie Day, however, kept him busy. Usually that young woman breakfasted in bed. Her looks in the early morning weren't at their best, unless at least an hour's time and trouble had been expended on them.

But she had learnt it was an error to seclude herself from the others at the breakfast table, for in that way she missed seeing Miles.

And Marcella Field was really too attractive-looking to be allowed a clear field with any of the men, though she was supposed to be Warwick's best-beloved.

That had ranked, rather! Leonie was vain enough to believe that at one time, even Warwick Tremaine had been interested in herself.

And matters weren't progressing any too fast with Miles' progressing. "There's something in the wind," thought Leonie astutely. "I'll make an opportunity to have a talk with the field girl, and see what's doing."

It wasn't till late afternoon, however, that the occasion came. Marcella had disappeared to the privacy of her own room, after a belated tea, to rest.

And Leonie, nothing if not bold, followed her there, not to be allowed a clear field with any of the men, though she was supposed to be Warwick's best-beloved.

"My dear, I know it's a frightful check of me, but I've been longing to have a gossip with you, and it's only possible by tracking you to your lair. May I come in?" She thrust her well-coiffed head round the door.

Marcella, seated by the fire, with an open book in her hand upon which she could not concentrate, rose, rather astonished.

"Yes, Of course. If you want to." She placed a wicker chair for her guest, and moved a box of cigarettes, so that she might help herself, if she so desired. "Won't you sit down?"

Leonie did so, with a sigh. "To tell the truth, I'm rather bored with this country visit. What say you?"

Bored? Was that the fitting word? Marcella had known deep misery, and thrilling happiness, and torturing perplexities and doubts, here in this house.

But boredom? No! Leonie curled herself luxuriously into the wicker chair, and lit a cigarette, staring at her vis-a-vis through narrowed lids.

How best to "rump" her? Flattery?

judiciously employed? The stimulant of jealousy? Or just plain speaking?

She was rather attractive looking, was this Marcella, pretty? Yes... as a wild-rose is pretty, growing and blowing naturally. A totally different type from Leonie Day.

But then one never knew what men did like! course, but her guests are rather ill—"Lady Warrington's a dear, of assorted, don't you think?" prattled the visitor. "Of course—" the verily archly—"you've been so occupied with your fiancé that you've had no time at all for anyone else!"

A low at a venture! Had the shot told? Colour rose to Marcella's cheeks. The blush of the newly-engaged perhaps? Or was it conscience pricks? Was there any truth in the idea that young Holden and this girl had had 'une affaire' somewhere, sometime?

She—Leonie—must get to the bottom of it all. "He's a great catch, and you're awfully lucky," she announced, with a winking smile, sinking more deeply into the wicker chair, and crossing one impeccably-shod foot over the other, with great display of silk hosiery and well-shaped leg. "How long have you known him?"

"Known whom?" asked Marcella blankly. ("Stupid!" thought Leonie. "Stupid—as I suspected! A man like Warwick is too clever to want a brainy woman. Marcella will be... what's the word? a soporific for him after the day's work is done.")

Aloud, with assumed sweetness, she said knowingly: "Your fiancé, dear." And then she added: "I thought you and I might have a little confidential chat, about men and their ways... and our affairs, and everything. You're the only kindred spirit in this house, so you must excuse me coming here to bother you."

"It's no bother at all," rejoined Marcella, pleasantly. She felt ashamed that once she had felt antagonistic towards this girl. How petty that had been! How utterly unfounded! Now she must make amends.

"When do you expect to be married?" The sudden question startled her, quick like a pistol-shot. "Married? Oh I—I haven't thought about that yet."

"But Mr. Tremaine surely has. You've known him for sometime, haven't you? And men in love are not models of patience."

Leonie flicked some ash from the end of her cigarette into the fire, and went on, thoughtfully: "You'll have a great time as his wife. Wonderful position, and all that. I could imagine his being awfully generous. Buy you a flotilla of cars, and everything you fancy. You are lucky."

BURNS ON VISIT TO U. S. SLEUTHS STATIONED HERE

William J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation United States department of justice, arrived in Atlanta early Thursday on his way to the west, and while in the city made an official call on L. J. Bailey, special agent in charge, local department of justice forces.

Mr. Burns will leave Saturday for Los Angeles, he stated, and will proceed from there to Denver. He came up from Florida, accompanied by Mrs. Burns, and was intending to continue his trip west Thursday, but decided to rest a day or two in Atlanta.

While in Los Angeles, Mr. Burns will question Herbert Wilson, a prisoner who claims to have supplied the bomb for the Wall street explosion in 1920. Mr. Burns declared that as yet he knew nothing of the truth of Wilson's confession, but stated that he would be very much pleased if the Los Angeles prisoners could give the information which would aid in clearing up the Wall street case.

Mr. Burns called on District Attorney Clint W. Hager while in the federal building and also spent some time with United States Marshal Walter Ackerman.

save a wistful little smile. "Somehow I don't think about those things," she said.

Leonie stared at her. Was she a fool? "Most girls would," she perkily observed, swinging one silken leg as though the motion soothed her nerves. "Money's the great thing in married life. I've watched lots of couples, and I know."

Marcella gazed into the fire. She had known financial difficulties, and had learned the value of this wanted money. But how ridiculous to think that it could bring real happiness to the heart, and fill its craving for the romantic love, companionship, the hundred and one intangible things that are purely of the spirit!

FILING RIDGY NAILS. Few women know the value of a pumice stone properly used. You can treat warts by rubbing them gently with a bit of pumice, you can wear off superfluous hairs from the skin, though as this requires enough rubbing to make the skin slightly sore, I doubt its value as a treatment.

The great use of pumice, in my mind, is to take the scales from the fingers and to rub smooth ridges on finger nails.

You must have a fine quality pumice, otherwise the nails will be torn. Rub the nails with it dry, then soak the fingers in warm, soapy water. A few minutes' immersion is quite enough; in fact you will save time if you use the pumice immediately after a bath or after washing the hands and face. Then take the pumice and so carefully over each nail, filing down the ridges until they seem smooth.

It is remarkable how little you must take off to do away with what seems like a deep ridge. Wash the nails again and if you are manicuring, finish this process without paying any attention to the nail's scratched surface.

Rub the nails with some good oil or cold cream, or better yet, rub your polisher thickly with a good cake of powder polish, and now polish the nails as hard as you can, going back and forth over each one separately with quick, firm strokes. It will take longer than the ordinary buffing, but even so it is a remarkably short time you will have polished off every trace of a scratch. Then wash the cream and powder from the nails and polish again with a clean buffer.

This treatment need not be repeated more than once in a few months. As the new nail grows in new ridges will appear, and when these seem prominent they can be filed down also. As a matter of fact, keeping the nails well fed with oil will do much to prevent ridges.

Patarika—Consult a dermatologist about removing these scars on your face.

Local Woman's Club to Have Booth at Exposition Next Week.

"Women are happier in their own homes," Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, declared Thursday in commenting on the "Own Your Home" exposition, which will open at the auditorium Monday.

The Atlanta Woman's club will take a leading part in the exposition, and the foregoing statement was one of a number of reasons given by Mrs. Boykin for the hearty support being given the "Own Your Home" movement in Atlanta by the club.

"Every normal woman desires a home of her own, and to be brought up in her own home and in the whole surroundings that go with it is the birthright of every child," said Mrs. Boykin. "Home ownership promotes marital happiness and contentment and insures healthier and happier children. Every child ought to have a yard to play in. Children must have plenty of fresh air and sunshine and they should be permitted to get it in the proper surroundings, rather than on the streets and in public places."

The club will have a booth at the exposition, fitted up as a modern living room, where a cordial reception will be given women and children to the exposition, which will continue through out the week. The booth will be conducted by the home economics department of the club, which Mrs. Newton C. Wind is chairman, and will be in charge of Mrs. T. G. Delph, divisional chairman. Mrs. Delph will be assisted by a different committee of club members each day of the exposition.

Participation of the woman's club will be in the nature of an educational campaign to stimulate greater interest in home ownership and in betterment of home conditions in Atlanta generally. Cook books gotten out by the home economics department will be on sale throughout the week.

PENSION MONEY WILL BE READY BY APRIL 20

Payment of pensions to Confederate veterans and their widows in half the counties of the state will be made by April 20, it was announced Thursday by Commissioner John W. Clark, provided present plans are carried out. This payment will cover the full amount appropriated by the legislature for pensioners in 88 counties, it was stated.

Should Commissioner Clark's plans to issue warrants for the pensioners as to reach the pensioners by April 20, materialize, all records for prompt payment of the pensions will be broken, it was stated.

RADIO DEPARTMENT

STINGER DUO AND MRS. R. N. LITTLEFIELD WILL ENTERTAIN LISTENERS TO LATE BROADCAST.

Station WGM's offering to listeners to the 9:30 to 10:30 broadcast tonight will be a program of vocal and instrumental solos, interspersed with delightful readings. A trio of favorite radio entertainers will be heard in the offering which promises to be unusually pleasing to fans.

Mrs. Georgia Stenger, pianist; Miss Elsa Stenger, dramatic soprano, and Mrs. R. N. Littlefield, reader, will blend their efforts at the late hour. The artists are quite well-known to WGM listeners and never fail to please.

Mrs. Georgia Stenger is a finished artist and her piano accompaniments and solos will be of unusual richness and charm. The appearance tonight of this gifted young woman is expected to be the last time she will be heard in Atlanta for some time, having accepted an offer to go on the dramatic stage in New York. She expects to leave this city within the next two or three weeks. Her listeners will rejoice with her in the prospect of new successes, feeling at the same time a distinct loss to the radio public. She will be heard in semi-classical and classical songs tonight.

Mrs. Littlefield is a well-known Atlanta teacher of dramatic art and expression who will give Poet's "The Raven" as one of her numbers tonight. She possesses unusual gifts and her readings are delightful features of radio programs at this station.

In Rhode Island.

Dear WGM: I thought perhaps you would like to know your programs are heard clearly at Providence, R. I. Hoping I shall enjoy it in the future also.

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD BRACEY,
87 Salina St.,
Providence, R. I.

HELTON BROTHERS WILL PLEASE FANS

Popular Atlanta Orchestra Will Be Heard on 6 to 7 O'Clock Program at WGM Tonight.

Heltion Brothers orchestra, popular Atlanta dance orchestra, will entertain listeners to Station WGM's 6 to 7 o'clock broadcast tonight. This fans are assured of a worthwhile musical program of variety and real features. Every member of the orchestra is a soloist on his particular instrument and solos, duets, trios and orchestration will fill the ether for one full hour.

Earle Heltion, director of the orchestra, is one of the south's best known melophone soloists and a virtuoso of unusual ability. He is a trained musician and an entertainer who enjoys wide popularity with radio fans of the nation.

Wendell J. Heltion, cornet and saxophone soloist, is another member of the orchestra who is well known to WGM's circle of listeners. He is an artist of rare and fine technique at this station have been featured. He will have a big part in the offering early tonight.

Other members of the orchestra are highly trained musicians and entertainers of the first order. The latest songs and dance hits will be featured tonight with a sprinkling of old songs as well. The offering promises to be unusually interesting and fans will enjoy the variety and quality of the broadcast.

From a Minister.

Station WGM: Gentlemen: We have been getting your concert all winter but it came so late that we could not hear it. We have only one stage of amplification and the "series" is the best in the world. We have lots of snow here yet.

VARIETY OFFERED AT STATION WGM

Mrs. Alma Garrett Ware Sponsored Late Broadcast From Constitution's Station Last Night.

Last night's 9:30 to 10:30 offering to listeners of the nation was an enjoyable musical program, sponsored by Mrs. Alma Garrett Ware, charming and gifted young Atlanta matron, who is widely known as a teacher of piano in this city. She was assisted by Miss Birt Stone, mezzo-soprano; little Regina Barfield, reader, and Jimmy Finley, WGM's staff pianist and assistant accompanist.

Mrs. Ware's contributions to the program included "Eadie" by Waldbourne, "Hunting Song" by Mendelssohn, "Butterfly" by Greig; "Julius Animate" and other beautiful piano solos. In all of her numbers she displayed a facility of presentation that merited the highest praise of listeners. Mrs. Ware's playing was marked by high artistic impulse, a depth of understanding and an unusual power of expression. She is a finished artist and her numbers were genuinely appreciated by critical music lovers.

Miss Stone is a pupil of Miss Margaret Hecht, Atlanta teacher of voice, and possesses a mezzo-soprano voice of rare sweetness and beauty. She gave every evidence of unusual gifts and excellent training in several beautiful vocal numbers last night. Little Regina Barfield, 16-year-old pupil of Mrs. Florence Griffin, interspersed the musical numbers with delightful and refreshing readings. Jimmy Finley, whom the station is no "whoozie" pianist on Station WGM's staff, complied with a number of requests from Atlanta teachers to give "Toot, Toot, Toots," "Dearest," and other popular piano hits.

"Come in Fine."

Radio WGM: I have been enjoying your programs very much and hope to enjoy them some more. Programs come in fine.

Yours truly,
JOHN FRANK DOBER,

SUMMER SEASON TO BOOST INCOME OF GOVERNMENT

Anticipating the beginning of summer activities of small baseball clubs, open air theaters, dance halls, traveling shows, and amateur performances, Collector Joseph T. Rose, of the internal revenue department, issued a statement Thursday calling attention of operators of such amusements to the law requiring federal taxes.

Every individual, corporation, partnership or association who is either required to collect or who is the owner or lessee of any place which is ordinarily or at times leased to other persons for amusement, the statement says, shall make the application for registration by filing form 752 with the collector.

Information relative to organizations which are exempt and specific information regarding the levying of taxes where there is no exemption may be secured from the collector's office.

Failure to collect the tax according to law, or to comply with the requirements regarding its collection, on the part of persons owning places where admission is charged, is punishable by a penalty of $10,000.

BIBB PLANS RAISE IN ITS TAX RATE TO PAY FOR JAIL

Macon, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) In advertising for bids for placing the county jail on the top of the new half-million-dollar county hospital now in course of construction, Bibb county commissioners today announced that it is their intention to increase the county tax rate 4 1/2 mills, in order to meet the cost of the new jail.

The present tax rate for state and county is 20 1/2 cents, the highest in the history of Bibb county. The increase will bring the rate to 25 mills. The approximate cost of placing the jail on top of the court house will be $10,000.

EXPERTS WILL ATTEND OPTOMETRISTS' MEET

Macon, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) It is expected that approximately 150 of the leading experts will attend the eighteenth annual convention of the Georgia State Association of Optometrists, which will be held at the Hotel Lanier, Dr. Fred E. Vaisiere, of Rome, Ga., president of the association, will preside.

Those from outside the state who will attend will include Dr. R. C. Augustine, of Decatur, Ill., president emeritus, of the American Optometric association, and Dr. Howard Minchin, professor of applied optics at the Ohio State university.

Wages Increased.

Miss Crowe Presents Array of Well-Trained Artists for Entertainment of Listeners.

Listeners to the 6 to 7 o'clock broadcast from Station WGM last night were given a variety of musical entertainment including vocal and piano solos and duets. Miss Martha Crowe, talented young lyric soprano, sponsored the program. Supporting her were Miss Gladys Cain, pianist; Miss Marguerite Smith, pianist; Miss Evelyn Coppidge, reader, and Curry Roly, tenor.

Miss Crowe has been heard many times by thousands of listeners throughout the nation on programs broadcast from this station. She possesses a lyric soprano voice of exceptional beauty and purity of tone, which was heard to advantage last night in the numbers, "I'll Forget You," "M-o-t-h-e-r," and other songs dear to the hearts of music lovers.

Miss Crowe gave the piano accompaniments for song numbers in her usual incomparable style and was also assisted by Miss Gladys Cain, pianist, who made her debut to fans of this station last night. Miss Crowe's appearance on a broadcast from this station is always greeted with enthusiasm and delight by listeners.

Miss Smith gave as her contribution to the early offering, several piano solos including "I Miss You," "Gypsy Love Song," and other well-known numbers.

Miss Coppidge again thrilled lovers of radio entertainment with her rendition of "Easy on Maternity," "Kate and the Cow," and other delightful readings. She has endeavored herself to thousands of listeners by her presentation of "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" and other songs.

The program was rounded out by Curry Roly, a student of Georgia Tech, gave "Mother Machine," "Little Mother of Mine," and several other songs in a manner which marked him as one of the south's most promising young tenors.

BURGULARS BLAME GERALD CHAPMAN FOR THEIR ARREST

Winder, Ga., April 5.—(Special.) Two men believed by police to be members of the gang which has been robbing Atlanta gasoline filling stations and drug stores, were captured early Thursday morning near Winder by federal officers speeding to Athens to officers, one of the burglars was "Gerald Chapman" for making his escape the same night they were on the "job," and caused their arrest.

Curry Roly, a student of Georgia Tech, gave "Mother Machine," "Little Mother of Mine," and several other songs in a manner which marked him as one of the south's most promising young tenors.

HUSBAND SHOOT WIFE AND ESCORT IN MOVIE HOUSE

Pittsburg, April 5.—An audience of several hundred men and women and children absorbed in a thrilling screen drama at a north side playhouse was converted into a panic-stricken stampeding mob late last night when a husband shot his wife and a revolver, stalked into the balcony and opened fire. A stream of flame flashed from the revolver as several shots were fired in rapid succession.

Almost before the flashes from the gun were obscured, panic reigned, and when the lights were switched on a man and a woman were slumped in their seats unconscious.

The woman was Lillian's wife and the man, Edward B. Weigner, her escort. Mrs. Lillian was shot in the temple, back of the head, right shoulder and neck. Weigner had three wounds in his head.

Physicians said Weigner would recover but held little hope for Mrs. Lillian.

Lillian, whose military service record showed him to be an expert marksman, showed signs of being arrested an hour later. He told police he had been "waiting for this chance for months."

DOG IS MOTHERING BROOD OF CHICKENS

Bakersfield, Cal., April 5.—Strongest of dumb mother is "Muggins," a Spaniel owned by E. Johnstone, of Taft, near here. The dog has taken into her keeping a brood of incubator chicks.

"Muggins" possesses a reputation as an incubator mother. She but recently relinquished guardianship of a brood of chickens belonging to the Johnstone household which she reared from a kitten. Now she has a whole flock of chickens. The fluffy little balls of feathers nestle merrily as they scratch over their big shaggy mother. Should they fall off they are consoled with a lick from "Muggins" tongue.

The more advanced Aztec and Inca tribes had acquired considerable knowledge of drying and other methods of curing long before the discovery of America by Columbus.

Stock Prices See Further Recovery Despite 'Shorts'

Reports From Industries of Favorable Earnings and Easier Money Rates Help Advances.

Day's total sales, 1,050,000 shares. 20 Industrials averaged 102.36; High, 122.38; low, 96.96. 20 Railroads averaged 86.05; net loss, 22. High, 192.30; low, 84.53.

New York, April 5.—Stock prices made further recovery from their recent heaviness in today's more active market despite another attempt by short interests to unsettle the list by attacking the railroad shares.

Publication of additional favorable earnings reports by large industrial companies, easier money rates and an optimistic forecast of business conditions by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon all contributed to the more cheerful sentiment of professional investors. The largeness of United States Steel common and the continued heaviness of Union Pacific induced a cautious attitude on the part of the outside public.

Equipment shares were heavily bought on reports that railroad executives, meeting here, had planned heavy purchases of rolling stock in the next few months. Sales of about 500,000 bags of raw sugar at 5-5c a pound revived speculative interest in the sugar group. Punta Alegre, South Porto Rican and Manzanillo, Mexican common and other Cuban shares were advanced.

The railroad attack on rails was rather surprising in view of the unprecedented March returns, excepting losses of 1 to nearly 2 points by Great Northern preferred, Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and

Atlanta Theatre—All week (matinee daily), Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood."
Lyric Theatre—(Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.
Loew's Grand—(Vaudeville and pictures). See advertising for program.

Howard Theatre—All week. Theodore Roberts in "Grumpy," and other screen features. Saturday 10 a. m. Better Film Committee children's gallery.

"The Man From Home."

(At the Lyric.)

An entertaining narrative, woven around some odd and some charming characters, with a smashing climax that sends audiences humming. The Star Spangled Banner from well-exercised diaphragms; that, in a sentence is "Booth Tarkington's" "The Man From Home," which the Lyric players are interpreting delightfully this week.

Belle Bennett holds the sympathy of audiences through four smashing acts in her portrayal of a rich, title-carrying and too easily influenced American girl who is caught in a web of European trickery. Walter Marshall furishes some big thrills as the masculine lead.

Loew's Vaudeville.

(At Loew's Grand.)

On the new bill at Loew's Grand theater for the last half of the week, presented for the first time on Thursday, are five splendid vaudeville acts and a motion picture program of many interesting features.

Carlton and Ward, comedians, are perhaps the most popular offering on the vaudeville bill, for as laugh makers they are hard to beat. They appear in Hebrew and recentist characters and excel in rapid-fire conversation. Their songs are thoroughly original, and on Thursday night went over with a whirl, making necessary several well-deserved encores.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill have a novel one-act comedy playlet that is unusual in its plot construction with many humorous situations. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hill are excellent in their difficult roles and score a decided hit.

Charles Keefe and Ivy Lillie entertain with a pantomime and syndicated songs; Capman and Capman are two accomplished dancers and the program is completed by the Sterling Trio, vaudeville artists, specializing on the rings and trapeze.

The feature of the long screen program is David Powell in "The Spanish Juke."

"Grumpy."

(At the Howard.)

A melodramatic picture that holds one's attention from start to finish is William de Mille's Paramount production of "Grumpy," featuring Theodore Roberts, May McAvoy and Conrad Nagel, at the Howard theater.

Mr. de Mille has injected a great deal of mystery into "Grumpy." This mystery is wrapped in a plot of flowers, both gardenias. The story is laid around a young man, Conrad Nagel has the role, with whom has been trusted a diamond valued at half a million dollars. A gentleman thief (played by Casson Ferguson) steals the diamond. But he so cleverly conceals his part in the robbery that he is not suspected.

Pola Negri.

(At the Metropolitan.)

Perhaps few persons come to trust their intuitions so much as most picture actresses. Pola Negri, star of the Golden Pictorial, is now at the Metropolitan theater, has learned to trust her intuitions entirely, she has no time for details. She is sure of herself—knows just what she wants, and makes straight for it. She is an arresting personality and attention centers upon her whenever she appears in public, due mainly to her exotic, dark type of beauty and partly to her poise and assurance.

GEORGIA SHERIFF

AND HIS PRISONER

ARRESTED IN OHIO

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 5.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of any Ohio state city police department an officer from a southern state and a prisoner were arrested here today. The officer was James L. Thompson, 32, of LaGrange, Ga., who was deputized by Governor Hardwick to return to Georgia. He was charged with removing mortgaged property.

Dunson was arrested by the Dayton, Ohio, police, and was taken in custody by Lieutenant of Police Sisking after the police had received a message from Dayton, authorities saying that they wanted the officer held on a charge of kidnapping and that an officer was on the way to take Thompson and Dunson back to Dayton, Ohio. No explanation was offered by the Dayton authorities.

Height of the pepper plant, native to the East Indies, is from 12 to 20 feet.

Unofficial Organ Of Klan Indorses Simmons' Course

"Independence From Evans" Urged in "Searchlight" on Streets Today

"The Searchlight," the unofficial organ of the Ku Klux Klan since 1915, has today issued the first issue of the organization in its issue of Saturday, April 7, which will be on the street today, and makes sensational charges of extravagance and mismanagement against Dr. Evans.

Under an eight-column headline reading: "There Is Only One Klan and Simmons Is Its Head," J. O. Webb, the editor, says that "Simmons is still now and always will be the leader of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

In another article, under the caption, "Declaration of Independence from 'Evansism,'" the Searchlight says that "a decent respect for the opinion of mankind requires that a radical change be made in the editorial staff of the organ." It further charges that since assuming office Dr. Evans has expended or permitted his associates to expend sums of Klan money aggregating $300,000.

"He has betrayed his friends, the Klan, and klansmen everywhere," the article says.

"He has attempted to banish all members of the Klan who would further the interest of the Klan, the woman's organization. Having challenged the authority of Colonel Simmons, he has left the Klan, and is without authority and standing, klansmen must acquiesce, therefore, in the necessity of declaring him an alien."

The Searchlight has been known as the unofficial periodical of the Klan, but in Saturday's issue it is proclaimed the "official organ" of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and the Klan, the woman's organization.

TEXTILE UNIONS VOTE TO ACCEPT WAGE INCREASES

Fail River, Mass., April 5.—The six unions affiliated with the textile council voted tonight to accept the wage increase of 12 1/2 per cent, effective April 30, offered on Monday by the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association. The council had demanded an increase of 15 per cent.

Of the six unions four were manufacturers' offer. These were the carders, spinners, sweater tenders and knitters. The weavers accepted a smaller increase. The loom fixers accepted, 45 to 50.

While the unions in this city affiliated with the United Textile Workers of America have not indicated their probable action on the wage increase, it was stated tonight that the decision of the weavers to accept the 12 1/2 per cent increase would mean that the majority of the council, sweaters and other U. T. W. organizations, which have held out for a 20 to 25 per cent increase. The weavers' action would mean that the textile council, voted in favor of strike when the manufacturers first refused to advance wages, and it was believed by many that the textile workers would follow the United Textile Workers in the event of a clash in the industry here.

In January the officers authorized President Thomas McMahon of the United Textile Workers to call a strike at his discretion. In a statement in New York today President McMahon said that he had authorized the strike if the council failed to continue its struggle for the 20 to 25 per cent wage increase, which would restore the schedule paid in the textile industry in 1920.

Greenwood, S. C., April 5.—Announcement was made today of an increase of 10 per cent in the wages of operatives in the cotton mills of Greenwood and Ninety Six, effective next Monday. The mills affected are Grenville Mills, and No. 2, Greenwood Cotton Mills, Poina Mill and Ninety Six Mill.

Greenville, S. C., April 5.—Increase of 10 per cent in wages in the form of bonuses were today authorized by the Victor-Monaghan Cotton Mills, of Greenville; the Pelzer Mills, at Pelzer; the Belton Mills, at Belton; and the Piedmont Manufacturing company, at Piedmont, according to information reaching here today from official sources.

The official announcement of the wage increase by the Victor-Monaghan stated that "an increase amounting to 10 per cent increase in wages" would be made to employees. The statement was made in this way in view of the fact that certain adjustments were necessary, it was explained.

Mooreville, N. C., April 5.—An increase of 10 per cent in wages to operatives of the Mooreville cotton mill, Mooreville, N. C., was announced by the mills today. The increase will distribute several thousand dollars each week among the employees.

Churches Blamed For Wages Paid Amusement Stars

Bishop Candler Points to Baseball, Picture Stars, Compared to Church.

Roanoke, Va., April 5.—Speaking today at the second session of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, Bishop W. A. Candler, of Atlanta, declared that the churches were responsible for the high salaries paid to baseball and football players and motion picture stars.

Bishop Candler was discussing the financial ability of the church to pay the pledges of its centenary fund, the highest paid men in the church. He said that the church was paying a salary of $100,000 a year to a president, "although," he added, "the president receives a comfortable income and the senators are paid well for their services, and of which, fortunately, are not passed."

The conference today heard the report of Dr. D. L. Blakemore, the missionary secretary. The report showed that the church had received $120,934.44 on its centenary pledges during the year 1922-23, and $120,658.91 for the year 1923-24. Payment of the pledges was being made along the first 25 days of March of this year, totaling $64,082.16. Dr. Blakemore stated that approximately $1,000,000 had been pledged since March 25, 1923.

The total pledge of the Baltimore conference to the centenary fund, made during the campaign of 1919, was approximately $1,300,000.
